

ONE KILLED, EIGHT HURT, IN WRECK

PRIMARY RESULTS AFFECT SOLONS

SENATORIAL DEATH RATE MAY INFLUENCE PENDING PROPOSALS

Propose To Take Up Legislation In Senate

By United Press
WASHINGTON, May 24.—The political mortality rate among senators is causing a panic which may influence pending prohibition and farm relief proposals.

Although there seemed little hope that any agricultural or liquor legislation could be passed before adjournment, leaders announced today they will bring up such measures. That three senators have lost in five primaries this year has impressed deeply the thirty-four who are up for re-election. The political death rate is far above normal.

Taking advantage of the situation, Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, announced he would move to take up all farm relief legislation in the senate calendar, probably today.

Senator Cummins, Republican, who is running for renomination in the Iowa primary June 7, announced he would move Wednesday or Thursday to take up the Volstead act. Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, leader of the Senate "beer bloc," has served notice that he would offer his referendum and beer bills as amendments, thus forcing a vote.

CRIME CAUSES TO BE DISCUSSED BY BODY

CLEVELAND, May 24.—Causes of crime will be discussed from various angles at the conference of the National Probation Association which opened here today.

Judges of criminal courts upon whom rests the responsibility of passing sentence upon convicted criminals will take leading parts in the discussion.

Probation officers, prison officials and members of boards of pardon and parole from all sections of the United States and Canada, as well as from England and other European countries will participate in the conference which each year attracts experts in the field of criminology.

Judges of the court of common pleas throughout Ohio, through their state organization, the Ohio Association of Common Pleas judges will hold joint meetings with the National Probation Association, when the administration of the criminal laws with particular reference to probation, paroles, etc in the state, will be discussed.

DROWNS SISTER AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

MARIETTA, O., May 24.—Mabel Stevens, 17, may join the sister she murdered Sunday, according to police and physicians. Miss Stevens was in a critical condition this morning from stab wounds, self-inflicted after she hurled her sister, Ethel, 5, from a bridge here into the Muskingum river. The child's body has not been recovered. The girl refused to reveal her reasons for the act.

After throwing little Ethel into the river she stabbed herself and ran screaming to police. The girl's mother committed suicide 5 years ago. Her father is serving a sentence for liquor law violations.

GUARD EMBASSY

HAVANA, May 24.—Rumors of anarchist plots against the American Embassy here and the consulate have resulted in special police precautions being taken to guard the buildings. The police moves were on the instructions of the government.

DAYTON POPULATION 177,000 LATEST CENSUS ESTIMATE SAYS

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Greater New York City was given a 1926 population of 5,924,000 by the census bureau today in its estimates of all cities of the country whose population exceeds 30,000. Figures were withheld for cities where decreases from 1920 and 1925 or where exceptional growth made the estimate inaccurate. Chicago population was placed at 3,048,000; Philadelphia at 2,008,000 and Detroit 1,290,000, based on the census taken in 1925.

Daughter of Mellon and Her Husband To-Be Not Worried By Wage Problem

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The problem involved in making a $2,500 salary fit the family budget will not intrude on the romance of Miss Alesia Mellon, daughter of the secretary of the treasury and David Kirkpatrick E. Bruce, son of Senator Bruce, Democrat, of Maryland, who are to be wed here next Saturday.

Although young Bruce has accepted a diplomatic post in Rome at around $2,500 a year, the young couple will make no serious effort to limit the family budget to $2,500. Miss Mellon has just completed the purchase of her trousseau, including many dresses, evening gowns, capes, coats, exquisite lingerie and other apparel to replace which would require several years of Bruce's salary, as a diplomat. Miss Mellon has had considerable experience in managing household affairs. During recent years she has presided in her father's home. She is 25 years old and is a leader among the younger social set here. Miss Mellon is an enthusiastic horsewoman and is seen frequently on the Bridle Path.

The wedding, one of the nation's richest heiresses to the son of Maryland's senator, will take place in the Bethlehem Chapel of the Washington cathedral before a select group of guests limited to cabinet officers, heads of diplomatic missions, personal friends and relatives.

A reception before a large list of socially elite will be held afterward at the Pan American Union.

Children Flee Fire Trap

Twenty-two children were led to safety when fire burned the Watchman Industrial School at North Scituate, Mass.

PEOPLE BLAMED FOR OHIO COAL MINING CONDITIONS IN TALK

Ohio Consumers Go To West Virginia for Fuel, Editor Tells Rotary Club at Lima—Praises Ohio Product

LIMA, O., May 24.—"The people of Ohio are responsible for the grave condition in the Ohio Mining Industry," Ellis Searles, editor of the United Mine Worker's Journal, Indianapolis, Ind., told the Lima Rotary Club today.

Brushing the question, "What's the matter with coal?" Searles declared that instead of patronizing Ohio mines, Ohio coal consumers are going to West Virginia for coal produced by non-union miners at a starvation wage scale to "save a few cents."

"There are 40,000 miners in Ohio and all are ready to work," Searles continued. "But they have no work because the people of Ohio refuse to patronize and sustain one of the greatest industries of the state."

"You expect these 40,000 miners to buy everything they need locally, yet you do not provide them with employment so they can earn money to do this. Instead, you go all the way to West Virginia to save a few cents."

Searles charged the West Virginia non-union miners were compelled to work "for whatever their employers desired to pay them." He upheld the Ohio miner who, he said, "demands a decent American wage for the labor he performs."

The Ohio miner, Searles declared, "should not degrade himself to the level of poverty and starvation that exists in West Virginia."

Ohio miners have the right to an opportunity to earn an income that will maintain their families on a decent American level of living," Searles said.

The mine workers editor paid tribute to Ohio coal declaring: "When nature fashioned this great land of ours, she planted in the picturesque hills of eastern and southern Ohio, a magnificent, endless deposit of coal as fine as any that can be found in America. There is no better fuel than Ohio coal yet thousands of Ohioans ignore it and wander into foreign states to buy coal, thus preventing their fellow-citizens from earning a living."

In closing Searles urged that "Ohioans boost Ohio, patronize home industries and keep the home fires burning."

SEVEN HURT WHEN AIRPLANE CRASHES

WARREN, O., May 24.—Seven passengers escaped injury when a giant Fokker monoplane, making a test flight from New York to Detroit, crashed near Trumbull County Club Sunday.

The craft, piloted by Lieut. G. R. Pond, was flying at a high altitude to avoid strong winds when one of the engines stalled. Pond volplaned to earth but the ship swerved as it landed, breaking a wing. The passengers proceeded to Cleveland by train. They included R. W. Judson, president of the Continental Motors Co., Detroit; W. R. Angell, a director of the company; Robert E. Madden, manager of the Commodore Hotel, New York City and a New York physician and his companion.

BUCKLEY WILL SEEK TREASURER'S OFFICE

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—Former State Fire Marshal Bert Buckley, of Dayton, today filed his declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for state treasurer.

Buckley was fire marshal under Governor Frank B. Willis and from 1919 to 1923 was Assistant Attorney General under Attorney General John G. Price. Two years ago Buckley was runner up in the primary race for the Republican nomination for attorney general.

WORLD PROBLEMS TO FEATURE SESSIONS OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Federation Planning Meeting In June At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 24.—National and world problems will be thrashed out in conference and round-table discussion during the eighteenth annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs when it opens here today for daily sessions until June 4.

More than 5,000 delegates have already arrived and today's number is expected to swell the total another thousand.

The women have already prepared resolutions they will present at the congress. Included among them is one that endorses the recent adult weight conferences and approves proposals that were made by a committee to formulate reliable height and weight scale for women. Other subjects include war-causes and cures, peace problems, citizenship training in the schools, uniform marriages and divorce laws, child labor amendment, prison reform, crime waves and an assortment of other topics.

Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, of Estes Park, Colorado and Washington D. C., president of the federation in an interview, said the adult weight resolution is timely and most important, because the health of the future generation is dependent upon it. The resolution decries the mania of women today who are taking all sorts of flesh reducing tonics and treatments without first consulting a physician to determine their fitness for the dietary ordeal and related exercises that have been found, so Mrs. Sherman said, to have greatly undermined the health of our women.

PLANES START ON BUENOS AIRES TRIP

NEW YORK, May 24.—Blazing a trail to Buenos Aires from New York, Bernardo Duggan and two companions jumped off from Miller Field, N. Y., by air plane at 8:15 a. m. today for Hampton Roads, Va., on the first leg of their flight to South America.

From Hampton Roads they will go to Charleston, S. C., then Miami Fla., and from there to Havana. They hope to complete the trip in a week.

TWO DEAD IN AUTO ACCIDENTS SUNDAY

TOLEDO, O., May 24.—Two men were killed and a half dozen persons were injured in automobile accidents in and near Toledo, over the week end.

The dead are: Louis J. Bevington, 32, Toledo and Mark Kadenko, 44, Lakeside, Mich.

Bevington was killed when his car plunged into a ditch and Kadenko was drowned when his machine ran into a lagoon.

KILLS WIDOW WHEN HIS WOOING SPURNED

SPRINGFIELD, O., May 24.—Enraged when she spurned his attentions, Benjamin Breimmer, 68, shot and killed Mrs. Magdalena Barringer, 65, a widow, then committed suicide here Sunday. Breimmer, according to police, had unsuccessfully wooed Mrs. Barringer, who was his sister-in-law, for more than three years. Breimmer shot the woman four times, twice in the breast and two times in the hand. He then shot himself in the head.

NEW BUILDINGS

MARYSVILLE, O., May 24.—A new assembly hall and a three-story brick dormitory will be completed at the Marysville Reformatory this summer at an estimated cost of $20,000.

ARTICLE INDICATES MUSCLE SHOALS BID OF FORD STILL GOOD

Dearborn Magazine Attacks Trusts In Current Issue

DETROIT, May 24.—Henry Ford is still interested in the development of the great power-fertilizer project at Muscle Shoals according to an editorial appearing in the June 5 issue of his Dearborn Independent which was made available today.

The editorial attacked "The power trust, the Chilean Nitrate Trust and the Aluminum trust," in the United States, charging they have deliberately tried to sabotage development of Muscle Shoals through a bid for the project designed to defeat economic production of fertilizer and to enable the power interests and fertilizer interests to maintain their "gross over charges."

Capturing his editorial "farmers not fooled, but bunched," the article asserts by inference that Ford will press his famous bid. After the opposing trusts had sought to show that Muscle Shoals was "not worth a nickel" it declares, the Ford bid proved differently and established an irreducible value to the property which it has not had before.

Pointing to the delay by congress of any disposition of Muscle Shoals, the editorial asserts "the power combine has succeeded in putting it over on President Coolidge and the congress."

It recalls the President once demanded for agriculture more fertilizer at a lower cost.

"Does the President not know," it demands, "that with the higher price offered by the power group for Muscle Shoals power, a 'greater supply and lower cost of fertilizer' is impossible?"

"Does not the president know that breaking up the unity of Muscle Shoals by substituting 'leases' for 'lease' is an unpatriotic destruction of Muscle Shoals as a great defensive unit?"

"Does not the majority of the joint committee on Muscle Shoals know that the acceptance of grossly capitalized Muscle Shoals means a betrayal of the farmer?"

"It all comes to this:

"Those who failed to scrap Muscle Shoals by saying it was 'not worth a nickel' are now trying to hamstring it by loading it with either bearing government capital. Either way it comes to the same thing so far as the establishment of the electro-chemical industry at Muscle Shoals and the production of fertilizers for farmers are concerned. The farmers can go to Chile for their nitrates as in the past and the electro-chemical industry can go to Canada, and Norway, as it has been doing, and the water power on the Tennessee river can go to waste by non-use, until the power combine gets ready to exploit its use."

BROADCASTING USED IN DIRECTING FILM

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—The first successful direction of motion picture scenes by radio has been achieved by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

The entire sea battle for "Old Ironsides," a photoplay which James Cruze is directing, was filmed with the use of a small radio broadcasting set through which directions for the scenes are being given.

A fleet of twenty-six sailing vessels took part. For many of the shots for the picture the sailing vessels are several miles from the motion picture camera. For the taking of these scenes an especially constructed low wave length broadcasting set was used. The director issued his orders into the microphone of the outfit and his instructions were immediately picked up by small receiving sets on each vessel.

GAS GOES UP

NEW YORK, May 24.—Gasoline prices in New England were increased today by the Standard Oil Company of New York. The new price will be twenty-one cents from tank wagons and twenty-four cents at the filling stations an increase of one cent a gallon.

FALLS TO DEATH

CINCINNATI, O., May 24.—Dr. Herbert Thornburgh, 54, plunged three stories to his death here while attempting to adjust an awning. He was assistant superintendent of Longview Hospital.

HANGS HIMSELF

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—E. E. Stevens, 50, Plain City insurance man, hanged himself Sunday. Stevens had been despondent because of poor health, according to his wife who found the body hanging from a rafter.

Carroll's Wife Aids Him

Mrs. Earl Carroll was at the side of her husband when he went on trial in New York, charged with perjury, an outgrowth of his famed wine bath party.

LEAGUE ADMITS SUPERVISION NEEDED TO WATCH ARMAMENT

American Representative Says States Not Anxious To Embarrass Efforts Conference May Adjourn Now

GENEVA, May 24.—The drafting committee of the League of Nations preliminary disarmament commission in session here agreed today it would be necessary to create some form of international supervision, probably under the auspices of the league, to see that armament quotas are not exceeded.

Hugh Gibson, American representative at the meeting, said although the United States was not accepting the idea of league supervision of armaments, the U. S. does not desire to embarrass the efforts of the league.

The conference was expected to adjourn today after sessions which, although they accomplished little, defined views of various powers on a disarmament conference.

The United States, England and Japan found themselves closer together in their desire for a further naval disarmament conference, while France, Poland, Belgium and the smaller European countries faced the necessity of finding their own solution of the military disarmament question.

The talk of suggesting a further naval disarmament conference continued and it was understood the proposition may be broached before adjournment.

Another ban was imposed by the patent office when permission was refused to an underwear manufacturing concern, which wished to employ the word "Decency" as its trade-mark on undergarments. Evidently, the slogan "Decency" was considered suggestive of indecency.

FREIGHTER AT SEA WITHOUT RUDDER

NEW YORK, May 24.—The freighter Sam Land of the Red Star line is on her way to the aid of the rudderless British freighter, Emilian, disabled in mid-Atlantic according to information radioed to the New York office of the line today by Captain Rene Bastin, of the Sam Land.

No further details were received.

The Emilian is a freighter of 6,112 tons and was bound from Havre to Hampton Roads. The Sam Land was bound from New York to Antwerp.

JOHN DOE TURNS UP HERE AS SPEEDER

A man signing himself as "John Doe," Dayton, O., was fined $10 and costs for speeding by Mayor John Prugh Monday morning.

He was arrested Sunday night by Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin who charged him with driving at a rate of forty miles an hour.

It was the first time he had appeared in the Xenia Mayor's Court to answer to a charge of speeding.

PROMINENT BROADWAY LIGHTS

NEW YORK, May 24.—Prominent figures in the night and early morning life of Broadway were expected to testify in federal court this afternoon as to whether Earl Carroll, described accurately to the grand jury, a joyous party on the stage of his theater on Feb. 22 and 23.

The government holds that while the theatrical producer's account of the gay doings was glib and entertaining, it was not strictly truthful.

U. S. Attorney Buckner, directing the prosecution of Carroll on charges of perjury, has yet to reveal witnesses' names.

Joyce Hawley, show girl, artists' model and the baizer de luxe, is the leading prospective witness, of course.

Joyce, so it was said in headlines plunged into a bath tub filled with alleged wines.

It is doubtful if Joyce will be called before tomorrow or Wednesday.

When court resumed today, Robert S. Coleman, dramatic critic, was expected to undergo further cross-examination by Herbert C. Synthe, Carroll's attorney.

Coleman was examining his vision when the trial adjourned Friday.

The critic said he had seen Joyce step into the bath tub, in fact he had seen all of Joyce step into the bath tub.

EXPRESS COLLIDES WITH FREIGHT TRAIN IN MASSACHUSETTS

Scores Thrown Out Of Berths: Actors Among Injured

MANSFIELD, Mass., May 24.—One man was killed and eight injured when the "Owl" Express on the New York-New Haven and Hartford crashed into a freight train at a crossing block here early today.

Scores of passengers in the eleven sleepers were thrown from their berths and bruised but did not require hospital treatment.

The engine of the express rammed the next to the last car of the freight. The car was knocked into the air and thrown against a signal tower which collapsed and burst into flames. George Morse, the tower man, was thrown clear of the wreckage, picked himself up and ran a quarter of a mile to a telephone for help.

The man killed was Edward Riding, of Newton, Conn., fireman of the express.

Those bruised or shaken included Henry Cabot Lodge, grandson of the late Senator Lodge; Blossom Seeley and Betty Washington, vaudeville actresses, and Paul Burns and Walter Kane, vaudeville actors.

GOVERNOR DONAHEY OPPOSES MOVEMENT OF DRY DEPARTMENT

Conversion Of Police Infringement On Home Rule, He Says

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—President Coolidge's executive order commissioning state, county and city officials as federal dry enforcement agents, is "an infringement on home rule," Governor A. V. Donahey declared today in a statement sharply criticizing the order.

"Any such dual authority would be, in my opinion, decidedly dangerous," the Governor said. "I have always been an advocate of home rule and this seems to be an infringement of the rights of the individual states."

The governor said that "if Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Andrews (Lincoln C. Andrews, national dry czar) went to take over the control of local enforcement officials, and place them under the federal government, they should also be willing to have the government bear the entire expense of such enforcement."

The executive's statement was interpreted as meaning he will oppose any attempt to commission Ohio's prohibition inspectors as federal agents.

"I do not see why the state or county should pay the salaries of officials subject to federal control and who might at any time be ordered by Andrews into some other state for enforcement work," he said.

"If the federal government desires to control state and county enforcement officers, it should step in and take absolute control, assume complete responsibility and bear the entire cost."

COAL MEN MEET

CINCINNATI, May 24.—More than 2,500 coal operators including several hundred from Ohio, were here today for the formal opening tomorrow of the American Mining Congress. The National Exposition of coal mining equipment opens tonight.

HOLD UP GARAGES

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 24.—Two bandits held up the H. T. Anderson and Ben Davis Garages here today and escaped with $300. Before carrying out the robbery the bandits severed telephone wires leading into the building.

PROMINENT BROADWAY LIGHTS TO TESTIFY IN BATH TUB CASE

NEW YORK, May 24.—Prominent figures in the night and early morning life of Broadway were expected to testify in federal court this afternoon as to whether Earl Carroll, described accurately to the grand jury, a joyous party on the stage of his theater on Feb. 22 and 23.

Boyish Miss Of Future Bids Fair To Out Man Man Himself—Says Expert

The other day we — the type of girl regaining her popularity in the movies but in "real" life, the weaker sex seems to be getting stronger, bigger and better!

Not alone is her figure boyish, if she follows style's dictates but her mind and mannerisms are anything but feminine. And according to experts, in the future she will become more and more so.

Shingled heads, slim, lithe figures, and athletic grace characterize the miss of today. The well-rounded, girlish figure has gone out. Dr. Hrdlicka, noted anthropologist of the Smithsonian Institute, predicts that coming years will not bring it back and that the flapper of Xenia tomorrow will be more nearly a man than ever.

Long, slender hands and feet will be among her possessions. She will be flat-chested, corsetless, healthy and physically stronger than the woman of the present.

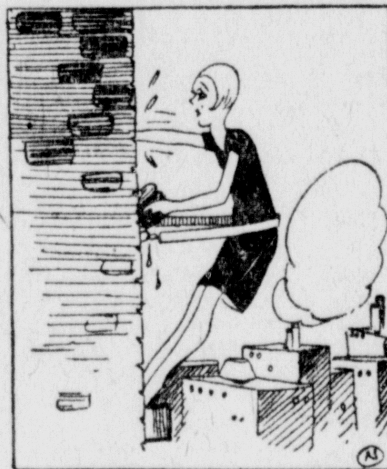

Personally, we can't see where the girls can go much farther in being mannish. They wear men's clothes, enjoy his sports, even to prize fights, and if she didn't drink, smoke, etc., a lot of these modern authors would starve to death. She plays golf and tennis, basketball and hockey, she swims, she motors, she bowls, and drives a car with carefree abandon.

But there are a few masculine worlds still left for her to conquer. She has not yet taken up baseball to any extent, that is playing the game. Perhaps in 1956 some slim miss will curve a mean ball over the plate out at Washington Park and another of her sex may be the heroine of the world's series. She will undoubtedly invade the billiard hall, there to put nasty English on the spheres of what was once a man's game.

A female traffic cop may some day take Pete Shagin's place and ask us "wherthahel!" we think we're going. She may rise into the world and start washing windows of skyscrapers.

Imagine the consternation of man when they start using female mannequins, and feminine wax models to show off the latest in men's clothing. Yet it seems perfectly possible. On the other hand, consider the joy of the male if things should go so far that conditions would be reversed and the flapper would call upon her sheik of a summer evening, bearing a nice box of cigars or a carton of cigarettes—for them to enjoy together!

The Book God Wrote

Being a series of articles on why the Bible is the inspired word of God and answering critics of its authenticity, prepared and written by.

THE REV. D. A. SELLERS, First Reformed Church

My third reason for believing the Bible is the Word of God is its marvelous unity. The real fact of the matter is, that the Bible is a whole library of books rather than one book. Here are sixty six books written by more than forty authors. The time in which they were written extends over many centuries. Some wrote their part of the story long centuries after the Book was begun. From the time the book of Job was written on to the time the Apostle John wrote Revelation more than 1500 years had passed.

Some of the writers were Kings, others were prophets, some were shepherds, some fishermen, one was a physician.

An eminent Bible scholar has well said that "a wonderful thing about the Bible is that its unity does not lie on the surface. There oftentimes is apparent contradiction on the surface and its unity only comes out by deep and protracted study. More wonderful yet is the organic character of the unity of the book, beginning in the first book and growing until you come to its culmination in the last book. We have first the seed, then the plant, then the bud, then the blossom, then the ripened fruit."

When the Washington monument was built the architect sent out specifications of just the number and exactly the size of the rocks that each State should furnish and each State prepared the exact number and the exact shape. When they were all assembled in Washington each stone fitted into its particular place and when all were used the monument was complete. The architect had made exact plans and there was one purpose carried out in the whole operation. The finished work proclaimed the efficiency of the architect.

Now to build up such a book as the Bible through fifteen centuries of time, employing over 40 different authors composing in all one Book, with one message required more than man's ability but was the product of the wisdom and genius and providence of God! It is a book only God could write!

Which Would You Choose

If some good fairy should appear, as they did in the old fairy tales, and offer to grant your heart's desire, what would you choose?

Wealth? It's a transient thing that brings its own cares.

Happiness? It's an elusive thing which we keep by giving away.

Health? That's the best gift. Health is riches that gold cannot buy, and surely health is cause enough for happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be the good fairy who offers you this priceless gift of better health. —Adv.

Health Hints

by the Father of Physical Culture

In inflammation of the bladder, the symptoms vary in nature and intensity at its various stages but it generally begins with a sensation of tenderness in the region of the bladder. Frequent pains are felt at the neck of the bladder on passing water. A frequent and continuous desire to urinate arises; and even after urination there may be spasmodic contraction of the bladder showing great irritability of its lining. The urine is cloudy and passed in small quantities. In older and chronic cases this condition may go so far as to cause such irritability of the neck of the bladder that the urine cannot be voluntarily passed, but must be withdrawn with the aid of a catheter. In severe cases the urine will resemble pus or matter, and the bladder becomes distended, retaining a portion of the urine for such a length of time that ammoniacal decomposition ensues, increasing the irritation and trouble. There is considerable uniformity in our methods of treating the various diseases of the bladder. Naturally, however, there is a wide difference in the treatment of acute symptoms and those that appear in chronic difficulties. When the disease is chronic in character the acceleration of the drainage in the affected part, together with the building up of vitality in general will be found the most practical plan of treatment. When there is acute pain or any of the other various acute troubles which appear in this disease, they can be allayed in nearly every instance by hot sitz baths and the free drinking of hot water. If it is not convenient to take the hot sitz baths, then hot abdominal or hip packs can be taken, to be changed several times if immediate relief is not secured. The form of the "T" bandage is preferred for these packs, the more perfectly to cover the abdomen, groin and hips. It is most important to drink large quantities of hot water when these acute symptoms appear, as an increased quantity of water to liquefy the blood and dilute the urine is very essential at this time. Frequently because of the presence of pain in urinating or by reason of other uncomfortable symptoms in connection with the bladder, one will make the very serious mistake of drinking as little water as possible.

Pick out your Straw! Buy your new Suit, Automobile or Tires NOW!

SOFT, summery days are here. The penetrating winds are gone. The damp, lowering skies have flown. The fruit trees are in gay blossom. The plumaged songsters are back on the hedges. The long era of furnace fires has come to a close. Light-heartedness, a new outlook on life, a new spirit, has come with the vanishment of the long, protracted stretch of cold and miserable weather.

Attune yourself to the new-day cheer. Cast aside the soot-laden fedora; buy a straw. Pack away the top-coat, buy a light suit. Breathe the youth of summer into your cravats * * and your activities.

Take your automobile and vagabond on Nature's smooth pathways. Travel * * * get out where you can see Nature, feel her, vibrate to her beauties. If the old car is a bit drab, trade it in for a new one. If you have never known the thrills of stepping on the gas, know them now * * * buy an automobile.

If your tires are worn threadbare, discard them. Equip with four new tires. Abandon the fears of blowouts for the smiles of dependable motoring. Decoration Day provides three glorious holidays * * * be ready, be fit to enjoy them.

Summer is the queen of the seasons. She is here—ahead of her calendar day, to compensate for the cold and dreary Spring. So if you are in the doldrums * * * snap out of it, do n't postpone * * * buy, enjoy and be happy!

Pick out your straw—and your new tires! Your Summer suit or your new automobile—Celebrate the coming of the Summer Season Now!

Don't let up on your work.

That's what has made this the most prosperous Nation on earth. But give a timely thought to your vacation period too. Tennis things; golf clubs; fishing tackle—the very thought of them should set your blood tingling!

The Northern lakes await your coming, the beaches of the South and East Florida Coast, with deep-sea fishing and the baths of renewed youth—this is their season. Are you ready for them?

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Tierney and two daughters, Bellefontaine, O. spent the week end with Mrs. Tierney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Poland, W. Main St.

GLADY CLUB PARTY

Glad Community Club will hold its monthly party at Community Hall, Thursday, May 27, at 8 o'clock standard time. Each member is requested to bring a dime.

Meeting of Pennsylvania Women's Aid will be held Tuesday, May 25, instead of Thursday, as previously announced.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Graham, of Spring Valley-Alpha Road, are the parents of a son, born Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Graham have two other children, a son and daughter.

Mr. A. H. Van Eaton, Dayton, was the week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Van Eaton, of the Van Eaton Road.

Women's Missionary Society, 1st U. P. Church, will meet at the home of Mrs. W. F. Andrews, 568 N. Detroit St., Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

M. E. H. Heathman will arrive home late Monday from Atlantic City, where he attended the National Electric Light Association Convention, the past week, as a representative of the Dayton Power and Light Co.

Mrs. Rose Zeiner, Jamestown, returned home Sunday evening, after spending ten days with Mrs. George Baldner, N. King St.

The condition of Mrs. George Preston, W. Main St., who underwent an operation last Monday in Bethesda Hospital in Cincinnati, is reported to be showing improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Adams, Washington C. H., are announcing the birth of a daughter, Sunday. The child, who has been named Helen Kyle Adams, is Mr. and Mrs. Adams' second, and the first daughter. Mrs. Adams was before marriage Miss Lois Kyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dales Kyle, W. Church St.

Mrs. Mary Little Dice, and her house guest, Mrs. Charles Thomas Walkley, East Orange, N. J., with Mrs. Lawrence Shields and Mrs. Mary M. Meredith left Monday morning by motor for Toledo, for a visit with Mrs. W. G. Dice. They will be gone about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Greenlease, Cincinnati, spent the week end with the Misses Mary and Mabel Greenlease, N. King St.

Mr. Wesley H. Rowe, U. S. Department of the Treasury, with offices in the Federal Building, Cleveland, with Mrs. Rowe, are visiting the Misses Mary and Mabel Greenlease, N. King St., for an indefinite time.

Mrs. Jane Bell, E. Second St., spent Sunday in Indianapolis, Ind., with friends.

Mrs. Omer Hagler, E. Third St., is confined to her home with an attack of grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. John Larrick, Columbus, and Mrs. Malcolm Bartlett, Maumee, O., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Beatty, N. Detroit St., coming to attend the funeral of Mr. C. C. Nichols, Wilmington.

Mr. J. J. Stout will accompany both Boy Scouts troops, on a "bike" to Dayton, Friday, where they will attend the elaborate Scout program at the University of Dayton Stadium. The party will camp at Island Park over the week-end.

Mrs. H. C. Pendry and Mrs. Paul Halder wish to meet all children of the various Sunday Schools, between the ages of seven and fourteen years, at the First M. E. Church, Tuesday evening, after school, in the interest of organizing a Loyal Temperance Legion.

Mrs. R. D. Williamson is spending a few days in Cincinnati, where she was called by the serious illness of her brother, Mrs. J. H. Gowdy and Mrs. Meda Gowdy, motored down with Mrs. Williamson, returning immediately.

Mrs. Earl Williams, (Miss Enid Lingo) Yellow Springs, underwent an operation for appendicitis, at McClellan Hospital, this city, Monday morning. Her condition is satisfactory.

DAYTON WOMAN IS ALPHA CLUB SPEAKER

Mrs. F. L. Shively, Dayton, who chose as her subject, "Measuring Ourselves," was the speaker before Alpha Community Club, Friday, at the Alpha School. Her subject was handled more as a heart-to-heart talk to mothers and was followed by a general discussion by the club members.

The Rev. Doyle Warner, Beaver Reformed Church, gave the Scripture reading and remarked at length on the co-operative spirit of school and church, with the club work which is being carried on.

A reading, given by Miss Barto, Dayton, added much to the pleasure of the occasion, as did a vocal solo by Mrs. William Scott, Dayton, and a violin solo by Miss Thelma Cauffman, Alpha.

A dainty refreshment course was enjoyed after which a business meeting was called, when, by unanimous vote, the club decided to sponsor "Week-day Religion," in the Alpha grade school, for the ensuing school year.

GUESTS AT DINNER

Xenia relatives were guests at a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Connor, W. Third St., Dayton, Sunday, the affair being arranged as birthday party for Mr. and Mrs. Connor's daughter, Miss Jean Connor. She celebrated her eighth birthday Saturday. Mrs. Connor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Owens of W. Third St.

Friends may call at the residence of the late Mr. George Y. Winter, N. King St., after 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

SCHEDULE OF UNION MEETINGS IS READY

Schedule of union evening services of Xenia City churches, under auspices of the Xenia Ministerial Association, for the 1926 Summer season, is being announced.

Burkett; August 29—Second U. P. Church, the Rev. V. F. Brown; September 5—Presbyterian, the Rev. D. A. Sellers.

BARBER ADMITS HE KILLED AGED MAN

MANSFIELD, O., May 24.—William E. Rogers, Columbus barber, today confessed that he and a companion shot and killed George W. Cole, 74, at the latter's home near here last Tuesday, according to police. Rogers was lodged in the county jail with Earl Gorrell, Marion taxicab chauffeur, after Gorrell related the story of Cole's demise.

"We had been drinking," Gorrell said, according to police, "and were attempting to rob Cole, when Rogers shot him."

Gorrell said that a few hours preceding the murder he and Rogers made an unsuccessful attempt to rob another man near Gallon.

Following the finding of the aged farmer's body, more than ten suspects were taken into custody and questioned. All were released. Police announced Saturday they had a new suspect under surveillance.

NINETEEN PUPILS GET CERTIFICATES

Nineteen schools of Xenia Twp. were represented in the eighth grade promotion exercises at Central High School, Xenia, Saturday.

Program consisted of choruses, playlets, drills, recitations, orchestra selections by Collins District pupils, pantomimes, health pageant and a varied program by Wilberforce pupils.

H. C. Pendry, city school superintendent, made a short address after the program. Certificates for high school promotion were presented by D. H. Barnes.

Names of graduates previously announced should have included those of James Tate and Wilson Robinson of Wilberforce.

MEET THE WIFE!

That most of sportdom's champions are blessed with charming wives is proved by this group. Just what part the care and wise counsel of these wives play in the success of the notables will never be known, of course. With few exceptions these helpmates rarely break into the limelight. Of those above Mrs. Jones is the wife of the national amateur golf champ, Mrs. Speaker the wife of the manager of the Cleveland baseball club, Mrs. Richards wife of the brilliant young tennis star, Mrs. Dempsey wife of the world's heavyweight champion, Mrs. Sande, wife of the famous little jockey, and Mrs. Charlie Hoff, wife of the Norwegian pole vault star.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS WILL BE HONOR GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB

Surviving members of Lewis Post Brewer, E. P. Hooven, William G. A. R., last contingent of Civil War heroes, will be guests of honor of the Xenia Rotary Club at luncheon and entertainment at the Elks' Lodge Tuesday noon.

Formal invitations have been extended to each post member individually. Those invited guests unable to walk to the lodge room, will be brought to the luncheon in the autos of Rotary members. Others will meet at the Post Hall, Court House, at the request of John W. Hedges, and march to the scene of the entertainment.

Members invited to be Rotary guests are: Albert Burrell, W. I. Smith, H. H. Conklin, D. M. Doggett, C. W. Wilson, D. Calhoun, W. H. Matthews, J. H. McPherson, George Moore, N. C. Littler, J. W. Hedges, I. T. Cummings, D. R. to the soldier veterans.

POLICEMAN SHOTS DOG AFTER NEW RABIES SCARE; TWO BITTEN

Reports Monday of two more people bitten by a rabies-infected dog and more loss of stock by farmers from the same source led officials to renew their warning to residents of the county to take all precautions to safeguard themselves against suspicious-acting or mad dogs.

Patrolman Ed. Craig shot a dog owned by Clarence Toner, S. Galloway St., Monday morning after it is reported to have bitten Gladys Green, ten-year-old daughter of Jacob Green, S. Galloway St., Sunday night and also the owner. It terrorized residents in the neighborhood before it was chained. The child was bitten in four places on the arm but her condition it not believed to be extremely serious. Toner was bitten on the leg but the injury is also not expected to be serious.

Farmers along the Alpha and Spring Valley road and vicinity experienced a renewal of a recent mad dog scare when a farmer by the name of Ellis reported a stray dog had bitten fourteen hogs, making it necessary for him to shoot them.

City and county officials are making a concerted effort to combat the condition and the police order that all dogs, whether stray or tagged, must either be chained or muzzled is still being strictly enforced.

DEATH BLANKS OUT YEARS OF SORROW WITH CRIPPLED CHILD

NEW YORK, May 24.—Frederick Raabe, sat alone at a table in a little second floor flat in Brooklyn last night.

Bitter, hopeless thoughts took possession of him. The weight of his sixty-two years pressed on him like an intolerable burden. In the next room, was that other—burden.

When Evelyn was born twenty-two years ago, she was a cripple, paralyzed from the waist down. It was a blow to him and his wife but they bore it well. For a life-time, they lavished care on the cripple and more affection, even than a normal child would have had. They were measurably happy. Then a year ago, his wife died. Raabe was not the same after that. There was no one else and he had to give up his job as a machinist and spend his days and nights playing the part for Evelyn that he and his wife had shared for so long.

Time hung heavy on his hands. After a life of activity, he was tied down and for long hours he sat with folded hands and brooded.

He talked little, even to Evelyn.

AUTO CLUB PROBES ALLEGED TRAP ON PIKE NEAR DAYTON

Officials of the Greene County Auto Club may investigate an alleged "speed trap" on the Montgomery County end of the Dayton and Xenia Pike, according to Dilver Belden, secretary.

Constables operating under Magistrate Fred E. Grable, Mad River Twp. justice of the peace, are making arrests of all motorists exceeding thirty-five miles an hour and of those drinking more than twenty-five miles an hour in the school zones, he said.

Reports were received at the club that at least five Xenians were arrested over the week-end. The constables are patrolling the pike day and night.

Without at present questioning the legality of the arrests Secretary Belden intends to make an investigation. One arrest, he said, was questionable. One Xenia motorist informed club officials, he was arrested for speeding and as he could not be persuaded to plead guilty to driving more than thirty-five miles an hour, he was charged with driving too fast within the school zone. An attempt will be made to have his case transferred to Probate Court.

XENIANS TO ATTEND COUSIN'S FUNERAL

Miss Harriet Whitmer, C. W. Whitmer, and J. H. Whitmer will attend the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. George Stephenson, 58, who was killed in an accident between Rosemore and Sidney, O., Saturday. The funeral will be at her home in Rosemore, Wednesday.

Mrs. Stephenson and her husband were driving to Ridgeville to attend a family dinner at the home of their daughter, when their automobile skidded on fresh gravel and overturned. Mrs. Stephenson was killed instantly. Her husband was injured but not seriously. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son and daughter.

She was in Xenia a few weeks ago to attend the funeral of her cousin, Mrs. E. H. Hart.

MISS SARAH SCARFF DIES EARLY MONDAY

Miss Sarah Scarff, former Xenia woman, died suddenly at her home in Portsmouth, Ohio, Monday morning at 4:45 o'clock. Death was caused by a stroke of apoplexy, suffered a short time before. Miss Scarff had been in her usual good health until the sudden attack.

She was born and reared on a farm on the Cincinnati Pike, near Xenia, and resided in Xenia a number of years. She and her sister, Miss Harriet Scarff, moved to Portsmouth ten years ago. Miss Harriet has been a teacher in the Portsmouth schools a number of years.

Besides her sister, two brothers, Charles Scarff, Xenia, and Benjamin Scarff, Cleveland, survive. The remains will be brought to this city for services and burial. Arrangements will be announced later.

What Are You Doing For Your Puny Child?

One Boy Gained 11 Pounds in 7 Weeks and is Now Strong and Healthy.

For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar-coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11½ pounds in seven weeks and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 60 cents at Sayre's Drug Store and all drug stores—but be sure and ask for McCoy's—the original and genuine. Give them to the sickly, frail child for thirty days and if they don't help—wonderfully, your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

OHIO THEATER GOERS NOW ON SUMMER DIET; DONN BYRNE'S NOVEL DISCUSSED

By MARGARET KRUMM

CLEVELAND, O., May 24.—With all the legitimate theaters operating on a summer diet, with the symphony orchestra and opera seasons concluded, with even vaudeville theaters giving way to the movies, metropolitan Ohio will dine on a cream puff menu after a season of the raw red meat in most of the arts.

The Repertoire company at the Ohio Theater has started off with a competent cast in an uncooked play, "The Family Upstairs." The acting was pretty fair but the play was not so much.

The policy of the McLaughlin Theater in past years is being followed again in the 1926 summer season. Leading players in New York productions are being brought here to take the roles they had in the original casts, while the minor roles are filled out by competent regulars of the stock company. This week's bill is the "Show Off," a corking burlesque of the noisy, modern go-getting business youth.

"Hangman's House," by Donn Byrne is attracting a great deal of gossip by booklovers. The Irish tale is called by some a masterly piece of realism; by others it is dubbed a tawdry melodramatic mess draped in glittering and showy verbiage. A little bit of both would probably fit the book.

Captain Frankau's "Masterdon" is probably the most talked of satisfactory book for summer reading. The captain was a Cleveland visitor recently, and autographed copies of his novel for numerous admirers.

The autograph habit seems to be back in vogue. Back-stage at the opera we found numerous Metropolitan stars besieged by admirers who wanted the scrawl or scribble of Ponselle, Tibbett, Chaliapin and Gigli on their programs.

Mothers, Your Manifold Duties Require Strength

Mrs. Lydia Gardner

Lima, Ohio.—"When my children were small, I was all the time run-down, weak and nervous. Just constantly in poor health. Nothing I tried seemed to do me any good, until finally, I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the Golden Medical Discovery. Now, I am happy to say these remedies made me feel like a different woman. I soon regained my health and strength. I think Dr. Pierce's Medicines are perfectly wonderful." Mrs. Lydia Gardner, 132 E. Grand Ave.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the ills of women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great strength restorer, are put up in fluid and tablets and sold by druggists.

CHARGE MAN WITH DEATH OF WOMAN

POMEROY, O., May 24.—"King Tim" O'Brien, charged with clubbing and burning to death, Mrs. Susan Rhoades, 80, because she threatened to tell police of his alleged liquor business, went on trial for his life here today.

O'Brien's chief accuser was John Hedricks, who is condemned to death for the murder of James McCumber, 35. Hedricks will be brought here from the state penitentiary tonight, with John Bryant, negro and Richard Rhoades who also are under sentence for participation in the killing of McCumber.

Bryant and Rhoades will testify for O'Brien. Today was expected to be consumed in the drawing of the jury.

TRAINMEN HURT

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—The main line of the Hocking Valley Railroad was still blocked today by the wreckage of several freight cars which were derailed near here Sunday, injuring two trainmen, Otto Harris, and Otto Reed, Columbus.

MAY

According to mythology, May was the daughter of Atlas and the mother of Mercury by Jupiter. This explains a great deal. Blood will tell. The volatile nature of the month is accounted for, the variability and capricious qualities understood—Mercury was his mother's own son. Yet, withal, it seems eminently safe now to sing the Song of Solomon, which has the place of honor at the head of this dissertation. Spring has come, and May is here in something more than name. There can be no mistake about it, spring is at hand. For lo! here and there upon the streets of the city the straw hat appears, furtively and cautiously now, but by and by bravely and blithely. Furthermore, the dandelions, those ten-dollar gold pieces fresh from the mint of spring are bespangling every grassy sward.

The apple trees are in blossom, a sight worth going far to see. Henry Ward Beecher averred that an apple tree in bloom puts to shame every woman who has attempted to dress since the world began. A strong statement, this, and admits of some qualification and exception. Still, it compliments the apple tree and can not possibly detract from a maiden lovely in plated crepe skirt and jacket, silk stockings and shoes to match—nothing can detract from her. An apple tree in bloom is not only lovely to the eye, since the wax-like petals are perfect, but the faint perfume thereof is exquisite, and once known and identified, never to be forgotten. Peach and plum and pear trees have surrendered to the charm of May, and their blooms regale in undisputed sway for a pathetically brief reign. Violets and other vagrant flowers, after braving snow and gloomy days, are happy now in the fellowship of the friendly sun.

The migrants are here in numbers which increase daily. The large family of warblers are constantly arriving, and even though their small bodies can not always be seen because of the heavier foliage, their notes are never over-strong but sweet and low can be distinguished by every listening ear. Most of the birds begin housekeeping in this month of May, and by the first of June their babies begin to demand attention. House-making and home-keeping even among the birds is exacting and takes heavy toll from the parents in patience, fortitude and downright courage. The natural enemies of a bird's home are numerous, wary and some of them cruel and bloodthirsty in the extreme. Then a wind storm may undo and defeat the work of nest-building carried on through many a busy day of constant plucking and pulling, placing and arranging of straws, pieces of string and twigs. Housekeeping and home-making among all God's creatures is a commingling of joy and pain, singing and sighing, high hopes and bitter loss!

May is the Memorial month, and the thirtieth day is set apart, and rightfully so, as sacred to the heroic dead who fell on battlefield, died in camp, or perished in prison pen for the sake of a mighty cause. God's Acre is never so lovely and its grim tokens so rainbowed with hope as "when spring comes back with rustling shade and apple blossoms fill the air." Nature is never partisan, never petty, and the sun's rays fall with equal splendor over the graves of soldiers of the common good who fought under different banners but gave their all with superb abandon when the great testing time came. The Blue and the Gray are together today, and joint Memorial Days are the accepted order in many a section where once the Mason and Dixon line was a reality.

When comes May with its blossoms, its bird song, its glory of sun, its carpsing winds and warm gentle rains, how fitting that all wintriness of pride, coldness of heart and frigidity of spirit be melted in the sunlight that floods the earth and makes all nature jubilant with life and love.

THE SPORT OF KINGS

The first of a mighty caravan is driving out of the home garage these fine May days, and the 1926 season of automobile touring—the sport of kings—is under way.

In all ages the privileged classes have had their hobbies. Horse racing, polo and power boats are among the chief diversions of the moneyed people today.

But when all is said and done, the great American sport is touring. From the "tin can tourist" camping along the road, to the limousine parties that pull up before expensive hostleries at eventide, there is fun for everybody and every purse.

No wonder the motor tour is popular. The sweet music made by the resounding slam of the automobile door, the joy of the high road, the delight of stopping wherever and whenever one pleases without regard for vexing timetables—all these and more are part of the lure of this rapidly growing American pastime.

This transformation in summer travel has altered entirely the hotel business. The "one night stand" is now the source of income and profit in place of the old-fashioned stay of a week or more. Municipal camping sites and the ubiquitous farmhouse accommodations for tourists are another new development.

Every man is a king in this country, or as good as one, and touring is his sport. May its popularity increase, for it harms none and benefits all.

May the bride and bridegroom be affinities. Youth is that period when a picnic is enjoyable.

One of the pressing needs of the day is a closed season for suckers.

A ceiling put up by a $14-a-day plasterer is what is known as a heavy overhead.

It is a totally lazy boy who cannot find a fairly satisfactory swimming hole these days.

Let other lands have such monopolies as they can get; America has a monopoly of America.

JOHN BAUGHN FILES INTENTION TO SEEK OFFICE OF SHERIFF

Deputy Sheriff John Baughn filed his declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Greene County subject to the August primary election with Earl Short, clerk of the board of elections, Friday.

Baughn has served as deputy sheriff for the past three years and was for a time acting sheriff. To date, no other candidates have announced for the office.

He is the second candidate to file but other party champions are expected to make their declarations soon as the time limit for filing expires in less than a month. The primary election will be held August 10.

MODERN HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT URGED

More modern hospital equipment and better facilities for medical treatment of children at the O. S. and S. O. Home, were recommended to the board of trustees by a special committee from the Medical and Surgical Visiting and Consulting Staff at the Home, Sunday.

Recommendations include those discussed by members of the medical staff at the last meeting at the institution in November. At that time changes in conditions at the Home hospital were suggested and the employment of a resident physician, a specialist in children's diseases, was urged.

of tartar. I bring the mixture to a boil, having my candy-icing thermometer attached to the sides of the pan so that its mercury ball is below the boiling liquid. I let it continue to boil briskly till the mercury rises to 238 degrees Fahrenheit (this will be the "soft ball stage" when a drop of the boiling candy will instantly become a soft ball when put into a cup of cold water.) Now I remove the candy from the range. It has cooked but four or five minutes to reach the soft-ball stage. I let it cool perhaps another full minute before I add one teaspoon of vanilla extract and three-quarters of a cup of shredded or desiccated coconut. Then I beat it vigorously for another minute, watching it carefully to see that it does not harden before I turn it into my nine-by-nine-inch square buttered pan, let it cool ten minutes, and cut it into squares.

Ordinance No. 299

To Establish Grade on Monroe Street from the South property line of Home Avenue to the North Property Line of Lake Street. Be it ordained by the City Commission of the City of Xenia, State of Ohio:

SECTION 1. That the grade on Monroe Street from the south property line of Home Avenue, to the north property line of Lake Street be and the same hereby is established as follows:

Beginning at the South property line of Home Avenue and grade, elevation 934.84; thence ascending on a 2.29 per cent grade for a distance of 55 feet to the North end of bridge over Shawnee Creek, elevation 936.1; thence level for a distance of 34.3 feet to the South end of said bridge; thence ascending on a .47 per cent grade for a distance of 110.7 feet to elevation 936.62; thence ascending on a vertical curve, the vertex of which is at elevation 936.85, for a distance of 100 feet to elevation 940.15; thence ascending on a grade of .6 per cent grade for a distance of 200 feet to elevation 953.35; thence ascending on a vertical curve, the vertex of which is at elevation 956.65, for a distance of 100 feet to elevation 958.4; thence ascending on a 3.5 per cent grade for a distance of 200 feet to elevation 965.4; thence ascending on a 2.5 per cent grade for a distance of 300 feet to elevation 972.9; thence ascending on a 4.4 per cent grade for a distance of 100 feet to elevation 977.3; thence on a vertical curve, the vertex of which is at elevation 979.50, for a distance of 100 feet to elevation 978.25; thence descending on a 2.5 per cent grade for a distance of 148.9 feet to the North property line of Lake Street, elevation 974.53.

SECTION 2. That the plans and specifications of the City Engineer, this day filed, be and the same are hereby approved.

SECTION 3. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after the earliest period allowed by law.

ON Greene County History

AGRICULTURE

History of agriculture as it concerns Greene County is little different from that of most of the other counties of the state.

One hundred years ago the farmer did not have a single one of the labor-saving devices found on every well-managed farm of the county today. With his crude single-shovel plow and hoe, his sickle, scythe and cradle, flail and fanning-mill, home made harness and hand-made wagon, he was but poorly equipped to battle the forests. He looked for the high and dry land since such a thing as the tile ditch was unheard of.

There was no such thing as a stump-puller; dynamite was unknown and the obstreperous stump was left to rot in the field. In short, the meager equipment of farming implements possessed by the early pioneers who first attempted to make a living from the soil would not be considered worthy of the poorest farmers of today.

The early farmer managed in some way to clear the forests with the aid of ax and fire and raised sufficient produce to make a comfortable living for his family. Wants were so few and simple that the two cents he received for a pound of pork and the ten cents his corn brought him looked as important as present prices.

Greene County farmers are able to raise crops rivaling the best in the country today. An acre of Greene County land has produced 100 bushels of corn and half that many bushels of wheat; 400 bushels of potatoes and for that matter it might produce as many bushels of onions. In addition it has produced three tons of timothy hay and six tons of alfalfa.

The farm which cost in the early days $1.25 an acre today is worth as many dollars an acre.

Keep Pimples away

WHY do you let those unsightly pimples, blackheads and blotches disfigure your skin and ruin your appearance? You can keep them away if you keep your system full of rich, red blood. And not only that, but the very texture of your skin will be soft and velvet like—and the coloring radiant as a rose.

It's all in the blood. And S. S. S. will help Nature keep your blood rich and red and pure.

Yes, you can keep pimples away, simply by taking S. S. S. That's a fact. The kind of red-blood-cells that S. S. S. helps Nature build makes your skin beautiful—clears it up just like it puts firm flesh on you—brings strength to weak, flabby muscles—gives you an appetite like you used to have and generates the energy and vitality of youth throughout your entire system.

Just try it and see for yourself! All druggists sell S. S. S. Get the larger bottle. It's more economical.

MODISH MITZI—This Has Never Happened To Dad Before

BY J. V. JAY

Mitzi is glad Estelle is so popular. If Estelle didn't have so many engagement parties to attend she could do her own last minute shopping—as it is Mitzi who has all the fun of buying trousseau clothes. (Notice her hat—it is silk and has a tucked panel.)

Estelle needs another evening gown. She couldn't quite decide where the honeymoon should be, but changed her mind from a camping sort of journey to a dress-up resort and now needs at least one more evening gown. Both of these show the proper silhouette.

This one, too, is mindful of the season's rule that bodices may be plain, but skirts must be fancy. The front of this frock is a mass of pleated ruffles. The long jabot down the back is a variation of the bow or bustle back re-introduced in Paris lately.

"I suppose these are new clothes, Mitzi?" inquires Dad with a sort of calm resignation. So calm in fact that Mitzi has almost a twinge of regret for lost opportunity as she answers virtuously: "Oh, yes, but they're not mine. I bought them all for Estelle, poor dear!"

Today's Talk

WHAT A WORLD!

We had a thrill with our breakfast the other morning. We read of that matchless feat of Commander Byrd who flew to the North Pole and back in just 15 1/2 hours from his starting point. It took Peary 25 years and over 400 days from the time he left New York until he finally reached his goal.

We remember when the airplane thrilled the world as it was announced that it stayed in the air for an hour or so.

And the other evening they had a talk over the waves and heard the voice of Byrd, this gallant daredevil of the air—a voice that came out of that frozen and bleak North country to the warm, easy chairs of a New York City newspaper office.

What a world! And now the intrepid Amundsen has sailed in a big dirigible over the North Pole on his way to Alaska.

Plans, also are under way to fly from New York to Paris in a single day, and already men have left New York City and gone to sleep in San Francisco—all in a single day.

We are thinking less complexly than at any time in the history of the world. We demand simplicity, directness, brevity, and more perspective.

This all tends to make people more tolerant and less snobbish, more philosophical and serene. We pay attention more than ever to people's motives and understand in a broader way than formerly. And it has all come about largely because we have learned that the world and all its marvelous forces and latent or undiscovered surfaces have been lying in wait that a greater understanding might spring up in people's hearts.

After a while the different nations of the world will stop their fighting and bickering and will make friendly calls upon one another.

Big happenings make a world seem small but they make small men big!

Reserves Hit Well, Field Poorly, But Beat Trojans

BURLESQUE BATTLE ENTERTAINS FANS AT LOCAL DIAMOND

Athletics Unable To Solve Offerings Of McPherson

In a comedy of errors the Xenia Reserves won their fourth game of the season by defeating the Troy Athletics 11 to 7 Sunday afternoon at Washington Park.

It was a burlesque ball game the like of which fans have not seen on the home lot for some time. There was all kinds of baseball—good, bad and indifferent. Sixteen runs, twenty-four hits and sixteen errors were contributed. Of these the Reserves made eleven runs, seventeen hits and eleven wabbles in the field.

The local nine scored at least once in every inning but the seventh and most of the runs were due to hard, clean slugging. On the other hand at least five of the Trojan tallies were in the nature of gifts with misplays the contributing factors.

Conley fanned his batting average and enjoyed a perfect day at bat with four hits in four times up. He collected a triple, double, two singles, walked and scored four runs himself. Cyphers also made four safeties, including a double. Every player on the team obtained at least one hit but McPherson.

The Reserves have signed up an original Nick Albrook in Frank "Doc" Chambliss, an old-time local star and recent graduate of a medical college. He is a utility hurler.

Playing his first game, Doc kept the fans rolling in mirth and furnished a world of amusement. He obtained three hits, two of which were of the flukiest variety, was caught napping off first, once, purposely dropped a fly ball while playing in the outfield and then got the runner at second. Then in the sixth inning, with the bases loaded and two gone, he did a Casey and fanned.

Drumming up trade he spiked the first baseman going into first then "fixed him up." Chambliss was permitted to pitch the last inning with "Red" Randall behind the plate—the old "log-yard" battery. The Trojans broke their bats trying to hit his benders and he whiffed the first batter and got the next two on easy fly balls.

Trojans got away to a two-run lead in the first. M. Babb tripled. Schaffer scored him with a single and scored all the way from first when Lucas misjudged his boundary and in the relay Conley threw wild. McPherson pitched hitless ball the next four innings but got out of a hole in the fifth by wonderful twirling. Troy filled the bases on Randall's error and two passes with no outs. C. Valentine forced Burnside at the plate, M. Babb popped to Randall and Schaffer rolled to the pitcher for the third demise.

With two gone in the sixth, S. Valentine singled, went to third on Burnside's single. Burnside stole second. Both runners scored on Eckert's low peg to first on Eyer's bounce. Their final three runs in the eighth were down-and-out gifts. W. Babb walked and stole second. Arthur was safe on Eckert's error of his difficult fly. S. Valentine singled and all three came home on Ramsey's overthrow of third and Wade's error.

Reserves got one back in the first on Conley's long triple to the bill boards and a single by Cyphers. Fuller hit a Texas Leager in the second. He was sent down by McPherson and scored when Chambliss singled over second. In the third Eyer's error and four consecutive singles by Eckert, Conley, Cyphers and Ramsey were good for three runs. F. Kessler was brutally batted out of the box in this inning and Eyer took up the labor.

Locals took an especial liking to the offering also. Randall greeted him with a single in the fourth. Eckert was hit by a pitched ball. Conley singled, filling the bases. Cyphers then delivered with a double, clearing the bases. The next three batters were easy.

Another run was added in the fifth with one out. McPherson was safe on an error. Wade surprised with a double, his first hit since joining the Reserves, scoring the runner. Chambliss obtained a fluke hit when the second baseman played out of position but Randall forced Wade at third and Eckert lofted to W. Babb. One more came across in the sixth on Conley's double and a single by Cyphers. Ramsey's following single was wasted as Fuller fled out. Wade took first when he was hit by a pitched ball clogging the sacks but Chambliss fingerously hit nothing but the atmosphere. Fuller scored the final run in the eighth. He was safe at first on an error by Davis, stole second and headed for third when Davis juggled the ball. Davis threw over the third baseman's head and Fuller made home easily.

Reserves will play either the Broadway Clothiers of Columbus, or the Springfield Knights of Columbus nine, a traveling organization, next Sunday at Washington Park. The score:

BOWERSVILLE DROPS CONTEST SUNDAY TO WILMINGTON TEAM

rally fell two short of a tie and the Bowersville Bayliffs dropped a diamond engagement to the Wilmington Night Hawks Sunday afternoon, at Wilmington.

Bowersville outfit the Quakers nine to eight but failed to connect safely when the hits meant runs. With the score seven to three against them, the Bayliffs proceeded to stage a belated rally in the final stanza. Runnels, first man up in the ninth, walked. Bowermeister and Glass singled, filling the bases, and Wells drove deep to right scoring Runnels and Bowermeister. Wells and Glass advancing on the throw home.

With the tying runs on second and third and no outs, E. Shadley struck out, Glass was thrown out at the plate trying to score on a short passed ball and D. Murrell was also a strike out victim.

Clarence Wells had an off day in the box and pitched indifferent ball. He was touched for two runs in the third, one in the fourth, three in the fifth and another in the seventh.

Glass, Wells and Bowermeister each made a pair of safeties for the Bayliffs while Batey was the only Wilmington player to make two hits.

The Bayliff-Night Hawk series this season now stands one to one. The third and deciding game will be played at Wilmington June 27.

DIVISION CHAMPS DECLARED IN BOWLING ELIMINATION ROUNDS

Elimination round in the three classes of the individual city bowling tournament is practically completed. All Class A bowlers have completed their matches with Bill Horner the victor. Fred Horner is the Class B champion but leadership of Class C is still disputed.

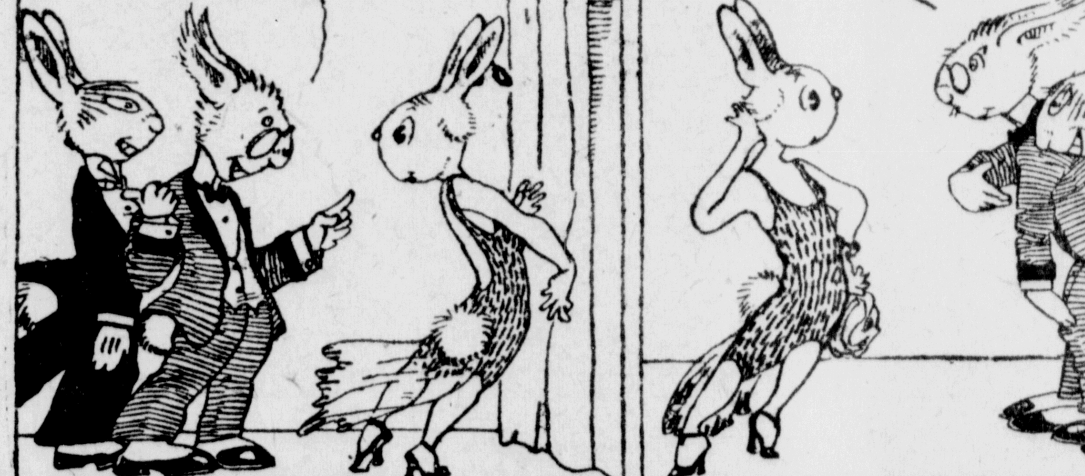

A three-cornered tie for first place is possible. Swindler and Leahy are at present tied for top position and Highley has a chance to tie the two.

Winners of each division will roll a series of games soon to decide the singles championship of the city. To the winner also goes a prize.

Doctor and Woman Chiropractor Indicted in "Baby Farm" Probe

Three indictments have been returned at Peoria, Ill., against Dr. Harry H. Whitten and Bessie Atherton, the latter a chiropractor, in connection with the investigations by Peoria and Tazewell county authorities into the deaths of two infants "adopted" by Mrs. Alice Marie Cramer. That these two doctors were connected with the "baby farm" from which Mrs. Cramer obtained her "adopted" infants was revealed when Mrs. Cramer was questioned at the Pekin jail, where she is held. Dr. Whitten and Bessie Atherton deny any wrong doing in connection with the farm. The photo shows Dr. Atherton and the home in which some of the infants were found dead.

This Will Be White House for Summer

Here's a view of the buildings on the Kirkwood estate, Saranac Lake, N. Y., where President Coolidge is expected to spend the Summer.

Bathing Suits and Robes as Beaches Will See Them

Bathing suits, robes and hats are allowed plenty of latitude in styles this season. Milady may exercise her ingenuity on hers as much as her heart desires. Hats of turkish toweling are popular and you will notice that stockings are much in evidence. Is the pendulum about to swing to ultra modesty once more, is the query?

Where Pilsudski Rules in Polish Revolt

Warsaw, war trampled city of Poland, is now in the hands of Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, leader of what seems to have been a successful revolt. The photo shows the Zjazd street in Warsaw. It is an approach to Alexander bridge, one of the three over the river Vistula.

Florida Takes Off Coat and Goes to Work

With the "land rush" and boom a thing of the past the state of Florida has taken off its vacation clothes and gone to work, as the main photo shows. One of the enduring improvements planned is a new rapid transit railroad that will eventually connect Tampa, St. Petersburg and other west coast cities. Photo at right shows Mayor C. M. Blanc of St. Petersburg, with silver pick, and Calvin A. Owens, president Florida Rapid Transit, breaking ground for the road at Pinellas Park, near St. Petersburg. At left Walter Fuller, boy millionaire businessman of St. Petersburg, delivering the dedication address.

Stowaway

Miss Laddie Kyle, writer, was discovered in the provision locker of the arctic-bound plane "Alaskan" at Seattle, just before the plane departed.

Rioting Royalist Rushed

This picture was taken at the height of Royalist riots in Paris. Gendarmes are quelling a turbulent monarchist.

Girl Slashed

Ruth Biller comforts her sister, Mary, 15, who was cut about the face by an intruder in their New York home.

College Star Goes on Trial

Alexander R. Dodge, Jr., right, former Kansas University football star, conferred with his attorney, Judge Leonard A. Snitkin, when he went on trial in New York charged with robbery.

Suicide Writes End of Tragic Family History

The final chapter in the tragic history of the Atz family of Fairmont, Minn., has been written in the suicide of Mrs. Esther Atz. Her husband was killed in an explosion, her daughter Florence, 2, and son Raymond, 5, died within eight months of each other of unknown causes. She was indicted and later freed on the charge of murdering Florence. Two hours after a jury indicted her for the murder of her son, Mrs. Atz drank poison and died.

Fire Destroys Hangar, Planes at Kansas City Airport

On the day that thousands of residents of Kansas City and vicinity turned out to witness the inauguration of the air mail service to the city from Chicago and Dallas fire destroyed the army hangar and two government planes at the aviation field and damaged other equipment. The main photo shows a general view of Richards Field, the Kansas City air port. At the lower right hand corner can be seen the ruined hangar. Other photo shows "Uncle Ike" Morrill, veteran postmaster of Notch, Mo., and character in Harold Bell Wright's "Shepherd of the Hills," delivering a speech at the ceremonies.

"Not Possible To Classify" By Mack Sauer

Frank Tilton hands me a clever poem written by Stoddard King of the Spokane Spokesman-Review, which he wishes to dedicate to our popular Waldo Beeler. Thanks, Frank. It helps a lot.

THE TIE THAT BINDS

O, some may long for the soothing touch
Of lavender, cream or mauve,
But the ties I wear must possess the glare
Of a red hot kitchen stove.
The books I read and the life I lead
Are sensible, sane and mild.
I like calm hats and I don't wear spats,
But I want my neckties wild!

Give me a wild tie, brother,
One with a cosmic urge!
A tie that will sweat
And rip and tear
When it sees my old blue serge.

O, some will say that a gent's cravat
Should only be seen, not heard,
But I want a tie that will make men cry
And render their vision blurred.
I yearn, I long for a tie so strong
It will take two men to tie it.
If such there be, just show it to me—
Whatever the price, I'll buy it.

Give me a wild tie, brother,
One with a lot of sins,
A tie that will blaze
In a hectic age
Down where the vest begins.

A Wilmington man writes me that there is going to be some court news from there. One of these days, because a certain man is asking for a receipt for his grocery bill each Saturday night. By the way, are you reading the "Groceries-Meats" Classification on this page daily?

BAPTISM OF SPIRIT
PENTECOST SERMON
SUBJECT ON SUNDAY

The Rev. Wm. H. Tilford, presented a modern interpretation of the Baptism of the Holy Spirit for his Pentecost sermon, in the subject of the sermon Sunday "Amplified Personality," at the First Presbyterian Church.

The speaker first defined the terms of the subject. Personality is the whole of self, the entire bundle of habits, which, when put together distinguish each one of us from the others. The individual identity or distinctive traits of a person, physical, mental, spiritual.

The speaker went on to show, that "Amplified Personality" could be developed or changed. If one's personality is not good, broad enough, pleasing enough, to put forth hope that it could be changed or amplified. The speaker quoted Dr. Overstreet, who said, "Our chief task in life is to make our personality and what our personality has to offer, effective in our particular environment of human beings." "In other words," the pastor said, "we are to bring our personality to bear upon others for their good, and if our personality is not pleasing and successful we are failures."

The main point of the theme was that religion amplifies personality, especially the "Baptism of the Holy Spirit." The speaker continued and proved that the disciples of Christ and others more near our own time, had their personalities amplified by the coming of the Holy Spirit into their lives. He showed how dynamical personalities were developed in men and women who showed no promise until the Holy Spirit came upon them. How faces were changed to winsome beauty, voices modulated, and the whole amplified by the Spirit baptism.

The closing appeal was that, all who heard be convinced of the necessity of the Power of the Spirit for the largest success not only in business or religion, but in all activities of life. The text used was from the Acts of the Apostles, chapter 19 and the second verse—"Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?"

column in a big city on the question it was found three out of four answers to her query were favorable to brunettes.

In the movies for instance are to be found many actresses of both types with the dark-haired maiden in the majority. Whether she naturally is preeminent or better than the blonde is problematical.

One argument against blondes was heard the other day. "Blondes," said one man, "are what is known as 'two-faced,' don't trust them." "For that matter," he continued in a pessimistic strain, "don't trust any woman."

However, blondes don't worry, the barbers like 'em and a pretty, blue-eyed, light-haired miss seldom stays at home nights for want of dates and never buys her own theater tickets.

The raven-haired dark girl may be admired by more men but yellow hair, peaches-and-cream complexion and big, blue eyes, certainly do not handicap the owner where popularity with boys is concerned.

Vilna, Strategic Polish City, in Pilsudski's Hands

This is a view of the river front of Vilna, strategic city of Poland, near which the Russians and Germans staged terrific battle during the world war. Vilna now figures in the Pilsudski revolt news.

IF ANITA LOOS IS RIGHT, THEN MANY MEN ARE NOT GENTLEMEN

Blondes or brunettes—take your pick.

Wording it another way, which does the man generally prefer, the blonde of the traditionally light, flickle, flighty type or the black or dark haired miss displaying predominate brunette traits.

Before you make up your mind a question arises as to just what is a blonde and just what is a brunette.

Blondes are envied by most women. It is true some use peroxide to lighten their hair as drug store clerks testify, gaining for them the nickname of "peroxide blondes," a term used frequently by the brunettes. This is neither here nor there so long as she is not one of those who make a habit of changing the color of her tresses weekly. This type must be ignored in the discussion of an important scientific question.

Men as a rule prefer opposites. Blonde men are perhaps the favorites of dark women but the black haired shiek's admirers among women appear to be universal.

After all what's the odds which color a girl's hair may be? He may secretly like brunettes but if his "girl friend's" hair happens to be flaxen color he will have no use for the dark-haired maiden. If she happens to be a brunette, he will be more emphatic in denouncing the blonde. It's all a matter of experience, past and present.

Mr. Nichols was married February 14, 1867 to Katherine B. Fisher, who died in October 1888. Their three children, Charles E. and Corwin C. Nichols, business men of Wilmington and Mrs. Mary N. Walker, Detroit, survive. Mr. Nichols was married November 9, 1893 to Elouisa F. King, of this city, who also survives him, with one sister, Mrs. R. D. Adair, this city.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Wilmington residence.

CLINTON NICHOLS, BROTHER OF XENIAN, DIES IN WILMINGTON

Clinton C. Nichols, 52, cashier of the First National Bank, Wilmington forty-four years and director of that institution sixty years, died at his home in Wilmington Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Nichols was born in Xenia, Ohio.

Let us consult Mr. Webster who is at least an authority on words and definitions if possibly not on women.

He sets forth a blonde is a woman with yellowish-brown, flaxen or light auburn hair, blue or gray eyes and pale or rosy-white skin or when a person "normally" has blonde eyes, hair or complexion.

Turning to brunettes we find he seems to think they should have brown or olive skin and black hair and eyes.

Taking this as a starting point, which type is it found, is the most popular with the stronger sex? If we may believe Anita Loos that "gentlemen prefer blondes" it is a logical deduction that many Xenians are not gentlemen.

OUT DOOR NECKER'S GLORY IN PRETTY SPRING NIGHTS WHILE COPS TURN BACKS

Every once in a while, a police judge or some city official gets a lot of publicity for himself and his town by telling the world that he will welcome "petters" to his fair city and all the by-ways and secluded nooks are at their disposal.

Such an invitation has been broadcast by Xenia officials, but we have good information that Springtime spooners are not letting this good weather go to waste.

Couples are now going out for outdoor training. The davenport has been forsaken for the park bench. Instead of listening for faint cries of love, the couples are embracing couples now keep a wary eye for all strangers and unwanted parties who are seeking the Spring breezes.

Warm nights, with a little flicker of moonlight coming through the young leaves, stir all the romance that has been lying more or less latent for months. Of course, it has not been entirely latent for shiekings is an all-weather sport. But Spring brings new fervor to its already enthusiastic devotees.

These balmy evenings now see scores of couples strolling arm in arm through the more secluded parts of town, talking in low tones about things that are distinctly none of our business. From front porches there comes the squeak of porch swings.

But the automobile is the most popular vehicle for love-making it seems. It is one of the wonders of gasoline motor that it stalls most conveniently when pulling a certain style of cargo, said cargo being usually limited to the front seat, or a small portion of it.

Movies and dances are beginning to lose their lure for the youth of the town. Flappers no longer boast of dancing every dance on the program, but they may boast of booking every dance and then dancing only two or three. That is a real accomplishment for "sitting out" is just as pleasant as dancing in Spring an dperhaps more so. One can have a good time dancing with almost any partner—but—?

MEDICAL SURVEY IS STARTED AT HOME

Six hundred wards of the O. S. and S. O. Home will be subject to a medical survey, started Monday under direction of Colonel Robbins, chief of the division of epidemiology of the State Board of Health.

Four doctors and several nurses of the department will assist, with the aid of Dr. A. C. Messenger, Xenia, acting resident physician at the Home. The survey will consume a week or ten days. Treatment of defects detected during the examination will be started as soon as the survey is completed. This is the first time a survey of this nature has been conducted at the institution. It is being made at the request of the state department through Dr. Messenger and Col. Robbins.

KIWANIANS PLAN TO ENJOY INTER-CITY PROGRAM AT URBANA

Several members of the Xenia Kiwanis Club and their wives are planning to attend an inter-city "ladies night" meeting of four Kiwanis Clubs at the Urbana Country Club, next Wednesday afternoon. An interesting program has been arranged by the Urbana Kiwanians for the pleasure of members from this city, Springfield and London.

Festivities will start at 3 o'clock, when members who play golf are invited to participate in a tournament. Suitable prizes will be given participants who make good scores.

Wilby G. Hyde, governor of Ohio Kamanis and Guy O'Donnell, lieutenant governor, will be guests of honor and speakers at the banquet at the country club, which is scheduled to start at 6:30, daylight saving time.

London and Springfield clubs report their attendance will be good. Springfield club is planning to bring its orchestra and glee club as an additional feature of the evening's entertainment.

There will be music for dancing and a Charleston contest is planned.

The Urbana Country Club is about four miles east of Urbana, on the Maysville Road.

GEORGE Y. WINTER CALLED BY DEATH

George Y. Winter, 60, died at his home on N. King St., Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Death was due to a complication of diseases from which he had been suffering ten days.

Mr. Winter was born in Cedarville and spent all of his life in Greene County. He moved to Xenia from Cedarville eleven years ago and had since been employed at the H. E. Schmidt and Co. grocery, S. Detroit St.

Surviving is his widow, who was before marriage, Miss Nelle Liff, of Cedarville and two children, Mrs. Robert Adams, Springfield, and Alfred Winter, at home. He also leaves his mother, Mrs. Caroline Winter, of this city.

Mr. Winter was a member of the First U. P. Church of this city. Funeral services will be held at the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. J. P. Lytle, pastor of the First U. P. Church. Burial will be made in Massies Creek Cemetery, Cedarville.

MISS EMILY WATSON DIES HERE SUNDAY

Miss Emily Watson, 74, passed away at her residence, 696 S. Detroit St., Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock. Miss Watson's death was the result of a complication of diseases.

She was born in the Union Neighborhood, south of Xenia, March 2, 1852, the daughter of George and Martha Watson. She is survived by one brother, R. L. Watson, Burlington Pike; one nephew, four nieces, ten great nieces and one great-great nephew. Five brothers preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock, fast time, at the residence 696 S. Detroit St., with interment in Woodland Cemetery. Friends are asked to omit flowers.

The Theatre

"Plays or players? Stars or stories? Which are more important in providing entertainment for the millions who find their chief amusement in motion pictures?" Herbert Knight Cruikshank, editor of "Cinema Art" asks.

"A while back one William Shakespeare remarked, 'the play's the thing.' He was right then. And he's right now. The towering structure of the star system, built by architects of both stage and screen is tottering," Cruikshank declares. "Its foundations were laid in sand. Sands—perhaps as dazzlingly golden as Swanson's tresses—as burning as the cinema love of Valentino, as compellingly alluring as Pola Negri's eyes. But sands are shifting. So is public opinion and the popularity of individuals. No single player is of sufficient calibre to indefinitely carry the entire burden of productions," he declares.

"Valentino" can give us "The Shiek" and "The Four Horsemen." Negri can contribute "Passion." But both are capable of incredible mediocrity in lesser vehicles," he continues. "Buoyed by strong stories, moderately competent actors may attain the heights. But not even a Barrymore can sustain a poor play. Star prestige is built by powerful publicity. The zenith of popularity is attained. It might be held. But always, it seems, the player is ruined by a succession of bread and butter stories. The fault is not with the actor. But it is the actor who suffers and is cast heartlessly aside by the box office producers. Slowly the amusement monarchs are realizing. They are using more care in the selection of cinema material. In doing so they will stabilize their stars. They will make fixed satellites of meteors. It takes a long time to come to consciousness. But always the truth eventually prevails. In the end Shakespeare's axiom will be recognized. Most decidedly, 'the play's the thing.'"

PAIR FINED AFTER LIQUOR IS FOUND

Charles Smith, colored, Cedarville, was fined $300 and costs, and Anderson Coleman, colored, Cedarville, $200 and costs on charges of illegal possession of liquor by Judge S. C. Wright in Probate Court Monday morning.

Both pleaded guilty and were committed to the County Jail until they can raise the money.

The pair was arrested in separate raids conducted on their homes in Cedarville Saturday night by Deputy Sheriffs John Baughn and George Spencer, assisted by Marshal Hayes McClain, Cedarville, and state prohibition enforcement officers.

Dry raiders confiscated a gallon of home brew at Coleman's home and three or four quarts of corn whiskey at Smith's residence.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT XXXII—"A MESSAGE THROUGH THE AIR"

AS I looked at Bill Ewing I remembered what I had heard about him—that he had been disappointed in love, and had come off to this beautiful island because he did not want to see any women.

I wondered if he resented Nathalie's and my coming there. He had been very nice to us, of course, but then, he would do that just out of politeness.

He took me out in a glass-bottomed boat that morning—just a regular row boat, it was, with a piece of heavy glass set into the bottom, in the middle, so that we could look straight down into the ocean. All sorts of beautiful fish swam beneath the boat, through long, waving strands of sea weed. Occasionally a little shark would pass us. It was fascinating; we stayed out for hours.

Bill Ewing told me lots of things about the Bahamas, things he had found out during the year that he had lived there. He told me about the religious meetings they had, like our revival meetings, and said he'd take me to one. I really began to think that he liked me.

We got back to the island to find Nathalie pacing the terrace, waiting for us. She hurried over to me.

"You have a wireless message," she told me. "I'd have come after you if I'd had any idea where you were—I'm afraid it's important."

It was from my mother. The first thing I thought of was the prediction the little colored maid had made the night before: "He's writing to you now," she had said, when talking about "a man far away."

"But it isn't a letter, it's a message that comes quick through the air, and it doesn't come straight to you." And here it was, a wireless from Virginia, relaying a telegram from Jim.

"Ordered to China," it said. "Can you come?"

China—thousands of miles away. I hadn't the slightest desire to go to China. I was perfectly happy right where I was. And I didn't see why Jim should want me there, anyway. He hadn't seemed to care particularly for my society when we were together in New York. He had Cicely Eaton, anyway. No doubt she would go to China, too.

"It's nothing important," I said carelessly. I wrote a reply, and when one of the servants went to Nassau that afternoon he took it with him. I had said in my message, "Can't possibly come." I had 25 quails of conscience; I told myself that Jim had sent for me just because he thought he ought to, and would be relieved when I refused to join him.

Bill Ewing looked at me quizzically. "Just a little matter of a husband," I told him, laughing. "He thinks he ought to ask me to join him, and I think I ought not to do it."

His expression changed. I regretted my flippancy. "Are you sure that he doesn't really want you to come?" he asked. "Oh yes; he likes me best right where I am, thousands of miles away from him," I answered. I couldn't help wondering how much more of Classy's prophecy would come true. A man would offer me love, and I would say "no" and then say "yes." Was Bill Ewing that man?

I went into Nathalie's room late that night, because I couldn't sleep. She was sitting up in bed, looking at a typewritten notation. She tossed it aside almost guiltily as I came in, then handed it to me, defiantly. "This is a memorandum of what that fortune teller told me," she said. "I couldn't resist getting it out and looking it over again."

She was sitting up in bed.

"Even though you don't believe what she told you?"

"I can't help believing," she answered, reluctantly. "She told me so many things that have come true that I can't help feeling that the other things will happen, too. And I'm afraid, when I think of them."

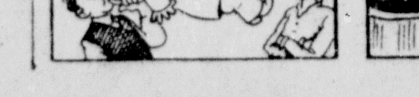

I had come to talk with her because I was inclined to feel rather blue myself. We had gone sailing that evening, all of us, through long, waving strands of sea weed. A perfect setting for romance—and Bill Ewing had taken about as much interest in me as if I'd been part of the boat—not so much, in fact, because the boat really did interest him.

But I remained to try to cheer Nathalie. She was so much in love with that he, and so much afraid that he would become attached to somebody else, as he had before. I couldn't exactly blame her knowing Dick Jordan as I did, but I tried my best to make her believe that she had nothing to fear.

I went back to bed at last, having succeeded fairly well with her, but more convinced than ever that there was a chance of Classy's prophecy coming true. I hoped that that would—and that Bill Ewing was the man she had meant in them.

PRIMARY RESULTS AFFECT SOLONS

SENATORIAL DEATH RATE MAY INFLUENCE PENDING PROPOSALS

Propose To Take Up Legislation In Senate

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The political mortality rate among senators is causing a panic which may influence pending prohibition and farm relief proposals.

Although there seemed little hope that any agricultural or liquor legislation could be passed before adjournment, leaders announced today they will bring up such measures.

That three senators have lost in five primaries this year has impressed deeply the thirty-four who are up for reelection. The political death rate is far above normal.

Taking advantage of the situation, Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, co-author of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, announced he would move to take up all farm relief legislation in the senate calendar, probably today.

Senator Cummings, Republican, who is running for renomination in the Iowa primary June 7, announced he would move Wednesday or Thursday to take up the Volstead act. Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, leader of the Senate "beer bloc," has served notice that he would offer his referendum and beer bills as amendments, thus forcing a vote.

CRIME CAUSES TO BE DISCUSSED BY BODY

CLEVELAND, May 24.—Causes of crime will be discussed from various angles at the conference of the National Probation Association which opened here today.

Judges of criminal courts upon whom rests the responsibility of passing sentence upon convicted criminals will take leading parts in the discussion.

Probation officers, prison officials and members of boards of pardon and parole from all sections of the United States and Canada, as well as from England and other European countries will participate in the conference which each year attracts experts in the field of criminology.

Judges of the court of common pleas throughout Ohio, through their state organization, the Ohio Association of Common Pleas judges will hold joint meetings with the National Probation Association, when the administration of the criminal laws with particular reference to probation, paroles, etc in the state, will be discussed.

DROWNS SISTER AND ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

MARIETTA, O., May 2.—Mabel Stevens, 17, may join the sister she murdered Sunday, according to police and physicians. Miss Stevens was in a critical condition this morning from stab wounds, self-inflicted after she hurled her sister, Ethel, 5, from a bridge here into the Muskingum river. The child's body has not been recovered. The girl refused to reveal her reasons for the act.

After throwing little Ethel into the river she stabbed herself and ran screaming to police. The girl's mother committed suicide 5 years ago. Her father is serving a sentence for liquor law violations.

GUARD EMBASSY

HAVANA, May 24.—Rumors of anarchist plots against the American Embassy here and the consulate have resulted in special police precautions being taken to guard the buildings. The police moves were on the instructions of the government.

Daughter of Mellon and Her Husband To-Be Not Worried By Wage Problem

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The problem involved in making a $2,500 salary fit the family budget will not intrude on the romance of Miss Alisia Mellon, daughter of the secretary of the treasury and David Kirkpatrick E. Bruce, son of Senator Bruce, Democrat, of Maryland, who are to be wed here next Saturday.

Although young Bruce has accepted a diplomatic post in Rome at around $2,500 a year, the young couple will make no serious effort to limit the family budget to $2,500. Miss Mellon has just completed the purchase of her trousseau, including many dresses, evening gowns, capes, coats, exquisite lingerie and other apparel to replace which would require several years of Bruce's salary, as a diplomat. Miss Mellon has had considerable experience in managing household affairs. During recent years she has presided in her father's home. She is 25 years old and is a leader among the younger social set here. Miss

Mellon is an enthusiastic horse-woman and is seen frequently on the Bridle Path.

The wedding, one of the nation's richest heiresses to the son of Maryland's senator, will take place in the Bethlehem Chapel of the Washington cathedral before a select group of guests limited to cabinet officers, heads of diplomatic missions, personal friends and relatives.

A reception before a large list of socially elite will be held afterward at the Pan American Union.

Children Flee Fire Trap

Twenty-two children were led to safety when fire burned the Watchman Industrial School at North Scituate, Mass.

PEOPLE BLAMED FOR OHIO COAL MINING CONDITIONS IN TALK

Ohio Consumers Go To West Virginia for Fuel, Editor Tells Rotary Club at Lima—Praises Ohio Product

LIMA, O., May 24.—"The people of Ohio are responsible for the grave condition in the Ohio Mining Industry," Ellis Searies, editor of the United Mine Worker's Journal, Indianapolis, Ind., told the Lima Rotary Club today.

Breaching the question, "What's the matter with coal?" Searies declared that instead of patronizing Ohio mines, Ohio coal consumers are going to West Virginia for coal produced by non-union miners at a starvation wage scale to "save a few cents."

"There are 40,000 miners in Ohio and all are ready to work," Searies continued. "But they have no work because the people of Ohio refuse to patronize and sustain one of the greatest industries of the state."

"You expect these 40,000 miners to buy everything they need locally, yet you do not provide them with employment so they can earn money to do this. Instead, you go all the way to West Virginia to save a few cents."

Searies charged the West Virginia non-union miners were compelled to work "for whatever their employers desired to pay them. He upheld the Ohio miner who he said, 'demands a decent American wage for the labor he performs.'"

The Ohio miner, Searies declared, "should not degrade himself to the level of poverty and starvation that exists in West Virginia."

"Ohio miners have the right to an opportunity to earn an income that will maintain their families on a decent American level of living," Searies said.

The mine workers editor paid tribute to Ohio coal declaring: "When nature fashioned this great land of ours, she planted in the picturesque hills of eastern and southern Ohio, a magnificent, endless deposit of coal as fine as any that can be found in America. There is no better fuel than Ohio coal yet thousands of Ohioans ignore it and wander into foreign states to buy coal, thus preventing their fellow-citizens from earning a living."

In closing Searies urged that "Ohioans boost Ohio, patronize home industries and keep the home fires burning."

SEVEN HURT WHEN AIRPLANE CRASHES

WARREN, O., May 24.—Seven passengers escaped injury when a giant Pottker monoplane, making a test flight from New York to Detroit, crashed near Trumbull County Club Sunday.

The craft, piloted by Lieut. G. R. Pond, was flying at a high altitude to avoid strong winds when one of the engines stalled. Pond volplaned to earth but the ship swerved as it landed, breaking a wing. The passengers proceeded to Cleveland by train. They included R. W. Judson, president of the Continental Motors Co., Detroit; W. R. Angell, a director of the company; Robert E. Madden, manager of the Commodore Hotel, New York City and a New York physician and his companion.

BUCKLEY WILL SEEK TREASURER'S OFFICE

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—Former State Fire Marshal Bert Buckley, of Dayton, today filed his declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for state treasurer.

Buckley was fire marshal under Governor Frank B. Willis and from 1919 to 1923 was Assistant Attorney General under Attorney General John C. Price. Two years ago Buckley was runner up in the primary race for the Republican nomination for attorney general.

BANDITS RAID CAMP CINCINNATI, O., May 24.—Bandits raided a fishing camp here over the weekend and obtained $4,000. Local clubmen were their victims.

WORLD PROBLEMS TO FEATURE SESSIONS OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Federation Planning Meeting In June At Atlantic City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 24.—National and world problems will be thrashed out in conference and round-table discussion during the eighteenth annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs when it opens here today for daily sessions until June 4.

More than 5,000 delegates have already arrived and today's number is expected to swell the total another thousand.

The women have already prepared resolutions they will present at the congress. Included among them is one that endorses the recent adult weight conferences and approves proposals that were made by a committee to formulate a reliable height and weight scale for women. Other subjects include war-causes and cures, peace problems, citizenship training in the schools, uniform marriages and divorce laws, child labor amendment, prison reform, crime waves and an assortment of other topics.

Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, of East Park, Colorado and Washington D. C., president of the federation in an interview, said the adult weight resolution is timely and most important, because the health of the future generation is dependent upon it. The resolution decries the mania of women today who are taking all sorts of flesh reducing tonics and treatments without first consulting a physician to determine their fitness for the dietary ordeal and related exercises that have been found, so Mrs. Sherman said, to have greatly undermined the health of our women.

PLANES START ON BUENOS AIRES TRIP

NEW YORK, May 24.—Blazing a trail to Buenos Aires from New York, Bernardo Duggan and two companions took off from Miller Field, N. Y., by air plane at 8:15 a. m. today for Hampton Roads, Va., on the first leg of their flight to South America.

From Hampton Roads they will go to Charleston, S. C., then Miami Fla., and from there to Havana. They hope to complete the trip in a week.

TWO DEAD IN AUTO ACCIDENTS SUNDAY

TOLEDO, O., May 24.—Two men were killed and a half dozen persons were injured in automobile accidents in and near Toledo, over the week end.

The dead are: Louis J. Bevington, 32, Toledo and Mark Kadenko, 44, Lakeside, Mich.

Bevington was killed when his car plunged into a ditch and Kadenko was drowned when his machine ran into a lagoon.

KILLS WIDOW WHEN HIS WOOING SPURNED SPRINGFIELD, O., May 24.—Enraged when she spurned his attentions, Benjamin Breimmer, 58, shot and killed Mrs. Magdalena Barringer, 65, a widow, then committed suicide here Sunday. Breimmer, according to police, had unsuccessfully wooed Mrs. Barringer, who was his sister-in-law, for more than three years. Breimmer shot the woman four times, twice in the breast and two times in the hand. He then shot himself in the head.

NEW BUILDINGS MARYSVILLE, O., May 24.—A new assembly hall and a three-story brick dormitory will be completed at the Marysville Reformatory this summer at an estimated cost of $80,000.

ARTICLE INDICATES MUSCLE SHOALS BID OF FORD STILL GOOD

Dearborn Magazine Attacks Trusts In Current Issue

DETROIT, May 24.—Henry Ford is still interested in the development of the great power-fertilizer project at Muscle Shoals according to an editorial appearing in the June 5 issue of his Dearborn Independent which was made available today.

The editorial attacked "The power trust, the Chilean Nitrate Trust and the Aluminum trust," in the United States, charging they have deliberately tried to sabotage development of Muscle Shoals through a bid for the project designed to defeat economic production of fertilizer and to enable the power interests and fertilizer interests to maintain their "gross over charges."

Capturing his editorial "farmers not fooled, but bunched," the article asserts by inference that Ford will press his famous bid. After the opposing trusts had sought to show that Muscle Shoals was "not worth a nickel" it declares, the Ford bid proved differently and established an irreducible value to the property which it has not had before.

Pointing to the delay by congress of any disposition of Muscle Shoals, the editorial asserts "The power combine has succeeded in putting it over on President Coolidge and the congress."

It recalls the President once demanded for agriculture more fertilizer at a lower cost. "Does the President not know," it demands, "that with the higher price offered by the power group for Muscle Shoals power, a 'great' supply and lower cost of fertilizer is impossible?"

"Does not the president know that breaking up the unity of Muscle Shoals by substituting 'leases' for 'lease' is an unpatriotic destruction of Muscle Shoals as a great defensive unit?"

"Does not the majority of the joint committee on Muscle Shoals know that the acceptance of grossly capitalized Muscle Shoals means a betrayal of the farmer?"

"It all comes to this: 'Those who failed to scrap Muscle Shoals by saying it as 'not worth a nickel' are now trying to hamstring it by loading it with interest bearing government capital. Either way it comes to the same thing so far as the establishment of the electro-chemical industry at Muscle Shoals and the production of fertilizers for farmers are concerned. The farmers can go to Chile for their nitrates as in the past and the electro-chemical industry can go to Canada, and Norway, as it has been doing, and the water power on the Tennessee river can go to waste by non-use, until the power combine gets ready to exploit its use."

BROADCASTING USED IN DIRECTING FILM

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—The first successful direction of motion picture scenes by radio has been achieved by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

The entire scene battle for "Old Ironsides," a photoplay which James Cruze is directing, was filmed with the use of a small radio broadcasting set through which directions for the scenes are being given.

A fleet of twenty-six sailing vessels took part. For many of the shots for the picture the sailing vessels are several miles from the motion picture camera. For the taking of these scenes an especially constructed low wave length broadcasting set was used. The director issued his orders into the microphone of the outfit and his instructions were immediately picked up by small receiving sets on each vessel.

GAS GOES UP

NEW YORK, May 24.—Gasoline prices in New England were increased today by the Standard Oil Company of New York. The new price will be twenty-one cents from tank wagons and twenty-four cents at the filling stations, an increase of one cent a gallon.

FALLS TO DEATH

CINCINNATI, O., May 24.—Dr. Herbert Thornburgh, 54, plunged three stories to his death here while attempting to adjust an awning. He was assistant superintendent of Longview Hospital.

Carroll's Wife Aids Him

Mrs. Earl Carroll was at the side of her husband when he went on trial in New York, charged with perjury, an outgrowth of his famed wine bath party.

LEAGUE ADMITS SUPERVISION NEEDED TO WATCH ARMAMENT

American Representative Says States Not Anxious To Embarrass Efforts Conference May Adjourn Now

GENEVA, May 24.—The drafting committee of the League of Nations preliminary disarmament commission in session here agreed today it would be necessary to create some form of international supervision, probably under the auspices of the league, to see that armament quotas are not exceeded.

Hugh Gibson, American representative at the meeting, said although the United States was not accepting the idea of league supervision of armaments, the U. S. does not desire to embarrass the efforts of the league.

The conference was expected to adjourn today after sessions which, although they accomplished little, defined views of various powers on a disarmament conference.

The United States, England and Japan found themselves closer together in their desire for a further naval disarmament conference, while France, Poland, Belgium and the smaller European countries faced the necessity of finding their own solution of the military disarmament question.

The talk of suggesting a further naval disarmament conference continued and it was understood the proposition may be broached before adjournment.

GRAND JURY PROBES DEATH OF CONSTABLE

HAZARD, Ky., May 24.—A special grand jury was assembled here today to investigate the murder of Constable Thomas Wilder, who was shot and killed in a gun duel with Arlie Walker, negro.

Walker, held in jail here was guarded from threatened mob violence today by 15 state machine gunners. The sheriff has refused to heed pleas that the youth be spirited to another city.

"There will be no trouble," he said. "The citizens are learning the law will exact full payment for the commission of a crime. There is talk of violence, of course, but I believe nothing serious will develop."

Wilder was shot down shortly after he arrested a negro. Angry citizens combed the city for the assassin. At the height of the search, Walker surrendered.

Walker's trial may be postponed for several days.

FREIGHTER AT SEA WITHOUT RUDDER

NEW YORK, May 24.—The freighter Sam Land of the Red Star line is on her way to the aid of the rudderless British freighter Emilian, disabled in mid-Atlantic, according to information radioed to the New York office of the line today by Captain Rene Bastin, of the Sam Land.

No further details were received. The Emilian is a freighter of 6,112 tons and was bound from Havre to Hampton Roads.

Sam Land was bound from New York to Antwerp.

JOHN DOE TURNS UP HERE AS SPEEDER

A man signing himself as "John Doe," Dayton, O., was fined $10 and costs for speeding by Mayor John Prugh Monday morning.

He was arrested Sunday night by Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shadin who charged him with driving at a rate of forty miles an hour.

It was the first time he had appeared in the Xenia Mayor's Court to answer to a charge of speeding.

HANGS HIMSELF

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—E. Stevens, 60, Plain City insurance man, hanged himself Sunday. Stevens had been despondent because of poor health, according to his wife who found the body hanging from a rafter.

EXPRESS COLLIDES WITH FREIGHT TRAIN IN MASSACHUSETTS

Scores Thrown Out Of Berths: Actors Among Injured

MANSFIELD, Mass., May 24.—One man was killed and eight injured when the "Owl" Express on the New York-New Haven and Hartford crashed into a freight train at a crossing block here early today.

Scores of passengers in the eleven sleepers were thrown from their berths and bruised but did not require hospital treatment.

The engine of the express rammed the next to the last car of the freight. The car was knocked into the air and through a signal tower which collapsed and burst into flames. George Morse, the tower man, was thrown clear of the wreckage, picked himself up and ran a quarter of a mile to a telephone for help.

The man killed was Edward Riding, of Newton, Conn., fireman of the express.

Those bruised or shaken included Henry Cabot Lodge, grandson of the late Senator Lodge; Blossom Sesley and Betty Washington, vaudeville actresses, and Paul Burns and Walter Kane, vaudeville actors.

GOVERNOR DONAHEY OPPOSES MOVEMENT OF DRY DEPARTMENT

Conversion Of Police Infringement On Home Rule, He Says

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—President Coolidge's executive order commissioning state, county and city officials as federal dry enforcement agents, is "an infringement on home rule," Governor A. V. Donahey declared today in a statement sharply criticizing the order.

"Any such dual authority would be, in my opinion, decidedly dangerous," the Governor said. "I have always been an advocate of home rule and this seems to be an infringement of the rights of the individual states."

The governor said that "if Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Andrews (Lincoln C. Andrews, national dry czar) went to take over the control of local enforcement officials, and place them under the federal government, they should also be willing to have the government bear the entire expense of such enforcement."

"The executive's statement was interpreted as meaning he will oppose any attempt to commission Ohio's prohibition inspectors as federal agents."

"I do not see why the state or county should pay the salaries of officers subject to federal control and who might at any time be ordered by Andrews into some other state for enforcement work," he said.

"If the federal government desires to control state and county enforcement officers, it should step in and take absolute control, assume complete responsibility and bear the entire cost."

COAL MEN MEET

CINCINNATI, May 24.—More than 2,500 coal operators including several hundred from Ohio, were here today for the formal opening tomorrow of the American Mining Congress. The National Exposition of coal mining equipment opens tonight.

HOLD UP GARAGES

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 24.—Two bandits held up the H. T. Anderson and Ben Davis Garages here today and escaped with $300.

Before carrying out the robbery the bandits severed telephone wires leading into the building.

PROMINENT BROADWAY LIGHTS TO TESTIFY IN BATH TUB CASE

NEW YORK, May 24.—Prominent figures in the night and early morning life of Broadway were expected to testify in federal court this afternoon as to whether Earl Carroll testified accurately to the grand jury, a joyous party on the stage of his theater on Feb. 22 and 23.

The government holds that while the theatrical producer's account of the gay doings was glib and entertaining, it was not strictly truthful.

U. S. Attorney Buckner, directing the prosecution of Carroll on charges of perjury, has yet to reveal witnesses' names.

DAYTON POPULATION 177,000 LATEST CENSUS ESTIMATE SAYS

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Greater New York City was given a 1925 population of 5,244,000 by the census bureau today in its estimates of all cities of the country whose population exceeds 30,000. Figures were withheld for cities whose population exceeds 30,000. Figures were withheld for cities whose population exceeds 30,000. Figures were withheld for cities whose population exceeds 30,000.

the census taken in 1925. All other estimates were based on the census taken in 1925. Population of important cities included: Ohio: Canton, 110,000; Cincinnati, 411,000; Cleveland, 960,000; Columbus, 285,000; Dayton, 177,000; Hamilton, 42,800; Lakewood, 59,500; Lima, 47,700; Lorain, 43,100; Portsmouth, 39,500; Springfield, 70,300; Toledo, 294,000; Youngstown, 165,000.

Boyish Miss Of Future Bids Fair To Out Man Man Himself—Says Expert

The other day we — ne- thing about the "sweet, this" type of girl regaining her popularity in the movies. That might be all right for the movies but in "real" life, the weaker sex seems to be getting stronger, bigger and better!

Not alone is her figure boyish, if she follows style's dictates but her mind and mannerisms are anything but feminine. And according to experts, in the future she will become more and more so.

Shingled heads, slim, lithe figures, and athletic grace characterize the miss of today. The well-rounded, girlish figure has gone out. Dr. Hrdlicka, noted anthropologist of the Smithsonian Institute, predicts that coming years will not bring it back and that the flapper of Xenia tomorrow will be more nearly a man than ever.

The Book God Wrote

Being a series of articles on why the Bible is the inspired word of God and answering critics of its authenticity, prepared and written by.

THE REV. D. A. SELLERS, First Reformed Church

My third reason for believing the Bible is the Word of God is its marvelous unity. The real fact of the matter is, that the Bible is a whole library of books rather than one book. Here are sixty six books written by more than forty authors. The time in which they were written extends over many centuries. Some wrote their part of the story long centuries after the Book was begun. From the time the book of Job was written on to the time the Apostle John wrote Revelation more than 1500 years passed.

In inflammation of the bladder, the symptoms vary in nature and intensity at its various stages but it generally begins with a sensation of tenderness in the region of the bladder. Frequent pains are felt at the neck of the bladder on passing water. A frequent and continuous desire to urinate arises, and even after urination there may be spasmodic contraction of the bladder showing great irritability of its lining. The urine is cloudy and passed in small quantities. In older and chronic cases this condition may go so far as to cause such irritability of the neck of the bladder that the urine cannot be voluntarily passed, but must be withdrawn with the aid of a catheter. In severe cases the urine will resemble pus or matter, and the bladder becomes distended, retaining a portion of the urine for such a length of time that ammoniacal decomposition ensues, increasing the irritation and trouble. There is considerable uniformity in our methods of treating the various diseases of the bladder. Naturally, however, there is a wide difference in the treatment of acute symptoms and those that appear in chronic difficulties. When the disease is chronic in character the acceleration of the drainage in the affected part, together with the building up of vitality in general will be found the most practical plan of treatment. When there is acute pain or any of the other various acute troubles which appear in this disease, they can be allayed in nearly every instance by hot sitz baths and the free drinking of hot water. If it is not convenient to take the hot sitz baths, then hot abdominal or hip packs can be taken, to be changed several times if immediate relief is not secured. The form of the "T" bandage is preferred for these packs, the more perfectly to cover the abdomen, groin and hips. It is most important to drink large quantities of hot water when these acute symptoms appear, as an increased quantity of water to liquefy the blood and dilute the urine is very essential at this time. Frequently because of the presence of pain in urinating or by reason of other uncomfortable symptoms in connection with the bladder, one will make the very serious mistake of drinking as little water as possible.

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture BERNARD MACFADDEN

Long, slender hands and feet will be among her possessions. She will be flat-chested, corsetless, healthy and physically stronger than the woman of the present. Personally, we can't see where the girls can go much farther in being mannish. They wear men's clothes, enjoy his sports, even to prize fights, and if she didn't drink, smoke, etc., a lot of these modern authors would starve to death. She plays golf and tennis, basketball and hockey, she swims, she motors, she bowls, and drives a car with carefree abandon.

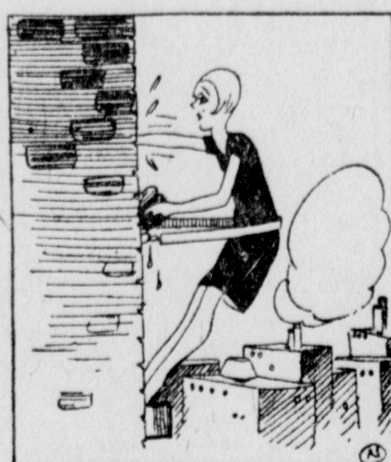

But there are a few masculine worlds still left for her to conquer. She has not yet taken up baseball to any extent, that is playing the game. Perhaps in 1956 some slim miss will curve a mean ball over the plate out at Washington Park and another of her sex may be the heroine of the world's series. She will undoubtedly invade the billiard hall, there to put nasty English on the spheres of what was once a man's game.

A female traffic cop may some day take Pete Shagin's place and ask us "wherthahel" we think we're going. She may rise into the world and start washing windows of skyscrapers.

Imagine the consternation of man when they start using female mannequins, and feminine wax models to show off the latest in men's clothing. Yet it seems perfectly possible. On the other hand, consider the joy of the male if things should go so far that conditions would be reversed and the flapper would call upon her sheik of a summer evening, bearing a nice box of cigars or a carton of cigarettes—for them to enjoy together!

Which Would You Choose

If some good fairy should appear, as they did in the old fairy tales and offer to grant your heart's desire, what would you choose?

Wealth? It's a transient thing that brings its own cares. Happiness? It's an elusive thing which we keep by giving away.

Health? That's the best gift. Health is riches that gold cannot buy, and surely health is cause enough for happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be the good fairy who offers you this priceless gift of better health. —Adv.

Pick out your Straw! Buy your new Suit, Automobile or Tires NOW!

SOFT, summery days are here. The penetrating winds are gone. The damp, lowering skies have flown. The fruit trees are in gay blossom. The plumaged songsters are back on the hedges. The long era of furnace fires has come to a close. Light-heartedness, a new outlook on life, a new spirit, has come with the vanishment of the long, protracted stretch of cold and miserable weather.

Attune yourself to the new-day cheer. Cast aside the soot-laden fedora; buy a straw. Pack away the top-coat, buy a light suit. Breathe the youth of summer into your cravats * * and your activities.

Take your automobile and vagabond on Nature's smooth pathways. Travel * * * get out where you can see Nature, feel her, vibrate to her beauties. If the old car is a bit drab, trade it in for a new one. If you have never known the thrills of stepping on the gas, know them now * * * buy an automobile.

If your tires are worn threadbare, discard them. Equip with four new tires. Abandon the fears of blowouts for the smiles of dependable motoring. Decoration Day provides three glorious holidays * * * be ready, be fit to enjoy them.

Summer is the queen of the seasons. She is here—ahead of her calendar day, to compensate for the cold and dreary Spring. So if you are in the doldrums * * * snap out of it, do n't postpone * * * buy, enjoy and be happy!

Pick out your straw—and your new tires! Your Summer suit or your new automobile—Celebrate the coming of the Summer Season Now!

Don't let up on your work.

That's what has made this the most prosperous Nation on earth. But give a timely thought to your vacation period too. Tennis things; golf clubs; fishing tackle—the very thought of them should set your blood tingling!

The Northern lakes await your coming, the beaches of the South and East Florida Coast, with deep-sea fishing and the baths of renewed youth—this is their season. Are you ready for them?

DAYTON WOMAN IS

ALPHA CLUB SPEAKER
Mrs. F. L. Shively, Dayton, who chose as her subject, "Measuring Ourselves," was the speaker before Alpha Community Club, Friday, at the Alpha School. Her subject was handled more as a heart-to-heart talk to mothers and was followed by a general discussion by the club members.

The Rev. Doyle Warner, Beaver Reformed Church, gave the Scripture reading and remarked at length on the co-operative spirit of school and church, with the club work which is being carried on.

A reading, given by Miss Barto, Dayton, added much to the pleasure of the occasion, as did a vocal solo by Mrs. William Scott, Dayton, and a violin solo by Miss Theima Cauffman, Alpha.

A dainty refreshment course was enjoyed after which a business meeting was called, when, by unanimous vote, the club decided to sponsor "Week-day Religion," in the Alpha grade school, for the ensuing school year.

GUESTS AT DINNER

Xenia relatives were guests at a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Connor, W. ## BARBER ADMITS HE KILLED AGED MAN

MANSFIELD, O., May 24.—William E. Rogers, Columbus barber, today confessed that he and a companion shot and killed George W. Cole, 74, at the latter's home near here last Tuesday, according to police. Rogers was lodged in the county jail with Earl Gorrell, Marion taxicab chauffeur, after Gorrell related the story of Cole's demise.

"We had been drinking," Gorrell said, according to police, "and were attempting to rob Cole, when Rogers shot him."

Gorrell said that a few hours preceding the murder he and Rogers made an unsuccessful attempt to rob another man near Galion.

Following the finding of the aged farmer's body, more than ten suspects were taken into custody and questioned. All were released. Police announced Saturday they had a new suspect under surveillance.

NINETEEN PUPILS GET CERTIFICATES

Nineteen schools of Xenia Twp. were represented in the eighth grade promotion exercises at Central High School, Xenia, Saturday.

Program consisted of choruses, playlets, drills, recitations, orchestra selections by Collins District pupils, pantomimes, health pageant and a varied program by Willberforce pupils.

H. C. Pendry, city school superintendent, made a short address after the program. Certificates for high school promotion were presented by D. H. Barnes.

Names of graduates previously announced should have included those of James Tate and Wilson Robinson of Willberforce.

MEET THE WIFE!

That most of sportdom's champions are blessed with charming wives is proved by this group. Just what part the care and wise counsel of these wives play in the success of the notables will never be known, of course. With few exceptions these helpmates rarely break into the limelight. Of those above Mrs. Jones is the wife of the national amateur golf champ, Mrs. Speaker the wife of the manager of the Cleveland baseball club, Mrs. Richards wife of the brilliant young tennis star, Mrs. Dempsey wife of the world's heavyweight champion, Mrs. Sande, wife of the famous little jockey, and Mrs. Charlie Hoff, wife of the Norwegian pole vault star.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS WILL BE HONOR GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB

Surviving members of Lewis Post G. A. R., last contingent of Civil War heroes, will be guests of honor of the Xenia Rotary Club at luncheon and entertainment at the Elks' Lodge Tuesday noon.

Formal invitations have been extended to each post member individually. Those invited guests unable to walk to the lodge room, will be brought to the luncheon in the autos of Rotary members. Others will meet at the Post Hall, Court House, at the request of John W. Hedges, and march to the scene of the entertainment.

Members invited to be Rotary guests are: Albert Burell, W. I. Smith, H. H. Conklin, D. M. Doggett, C. W. Wilson, D. Calhoun, W. H. Matthews, J. H. McPherson, George Moore, N. C. Littler, J. W. Hedges, I. T. Cummings, D. R. Brewer, E. P. Hooven, William Holtzappel, Robert Spahr and D. V. Reeves. The party was arranged as a timely tribute to the approach of Memorial day.

POLICEMAN SHOOT DOG AFTER NEW RABIES SCARE; TWO BITTEN

Reports Monday of two more people bitten by a rabies-infected dog and more loss of stock by farmers from the same source led officials to renew their warning to residents of the county to take all precautions to safeguard themselves against suspicious-acting or mad dogs.

Patrolman Ed. Craig shot a dog owned by Clarence Toner, S. Gallows St., Monday morning after it is reported to have bitten Gladys Green, ten-year-old daughter of Jacob Green, S. Gallows St., Sunday night and also the owner.

It terrorized residents in the neighborhood before it was chained. The child was bitten in four places on the arm but her condition it not believed to be extremely serious. Toner was bitten on the leg but the injury is also not expected to be serious.

Farmers along the Alpha and Spring Valley road and vicinity experienced a renewal of a recent mad dog scare when a farmer by the name of Ellis reported a stray dog had bitten fourteen hogs, making it necessary for him to shoot them.

City and county officials are making a concerted effort to combat the condition and the police order that all dogs, whether stray or tagged, must either be chained or muzzled is still being strictly enforced.

DEATH BLANKS OUT YEARS OF SORROW WITH CRIPPLED CHILD

NEW YORK, May 24.—Frederick Raabe, sat alone at a table in a little second floor flat in Brooklyn last night.

Bitter, hopeless thoughts took possession of him. The weight of his sixty-two years pressed on him like an intolerable burden. In the next room, was that other—burden.

When Evelyn was born twenty-two years ago, she was a cripple, paralyzed from the waist down. It was a blow to him and his wife but they bore it well. For a lifetime, they lavished care on the cripple and more affection, even, than a normal child would have had. They were measurably happy. Then a year ago, his wife died. Raabe was not the same after that. There was no one else and he had to give up his job as a machinist and spend his days and nights playing the part for Evelyn that he and his wife had shared for so long.

Time hung heavy on his hands. After a life of activity, he was tied down and for long hours he sat with folded hands and brooded.

He talked little, even to Evelyn.

AUTO CLUB PROBES ALLEGED TRAP ON PIKE NEAR DAYTON

Officials of the Greene County Auto Club may investigate an alleged "speed trap" on the Montgomery County end of the Dayton and Xenia Pike, according to Dilver Belden, secretary.

Constables operating under Magistrate Fred E. Grable, Mad River Twp. justice of the peace, are making arrests of all motorists exceeding thirty-five miles an hour and of those driving more than twenty-five miles an hour in the school zones, he said.

Reports were received at the club that at least five Xenians were arrested over the week-end. The constables are patrolling the pike day and night.

Without at present questioning the legality of the arrests Secretary Belden intends to make an investigation. One arrest, he said, was questionable. One Xenia motorist informed club officials, he was arrested for speeding and as he could not be persuaded to plead guilty to driving more than thirty-five miles an hour, he was charged with driving too fast within the school zone. An attempt will be made to have his case transferred to Probate Court.

XENIANS TO ATTEND COUSIN'S FUNERAL

Miss Harriet Whitmer, C. W. Whitmer, and J. H. Whitmer will attend the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. George Stephenson, 58, who was killed in an accident between Rosemore and Sidney, O., Saturday. The funeral will be at her home in Rosemore, Wednesday.

Mrs. Stephenson and her husband were driving to Ridgeville to attend a family dinner at the home of their daughter, when their automobile skidded on fresh gravel and overturned. Mrs. Stephenson was killed instantly. Her husband was injured but not seriously. Besides her husband, she is survived by a son and daughter.

She was in Xenia a few weeks ago to attend the funeral of her cousin, Mrs. E. H. Hart.

MISS SARAH SCARFF DIES EARLY MONDAY

Miss Sarah Scarff, former Xenia woman, died suddenly at her home in Portsmouth, Ohio, Monday morning at 4:45 o'clock. Death was caused by a stroke of apoplexy, suffered a short time before. Miss Scarff had been in her usual good health until the sudden attack.

She was born and reared on a farm on the Cincinnati Pike, near Xenia, and resided in Xenia a number of years. She and her sister, Mrs. Harriett Scarff, moved to Portsmouth ten years ago. Miss Harriet has been a teacher in the Portsmouth schools a number of years.

Besides her sister, two brothers, Charles Scarff, Xenia, and Benjamin Scarff, Cleveland, survive. The remains will be brought to this city for services and burial. Arrangements will be announced later.

What Are You Doing For Your Puny Child?

One Boy Gained 11 Pounds in 7 Weeks and is Now Strong and Healthy.

For weak, frail, under-developed children—and especially those that have rickets, and need a sure builder that promotes the growth of teeth and bones, cod liver oil is the one medicine supreme—nothing helps like it.

But it is nasty and repulsive and evil smelling and nearly always upsets children's stomachs—so now up-to-date chemists advise McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Children love them as they do candy, because they are sugar-coated and easy to take. One boy gained 11½ pounds in seven weeks and is now healthy and happy—thousands of other children have grown strong and robust.

Sixty tablets for 60 cents at Sayre's Drug Store and all druggists—but be sure and ask for McCoy's—the original and genuine. Give them to the sickly, frail child for thirty days and if they don't help—wonderfully, your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

OHIO THEATER GOERS NOW ON SUMMER DIET; DONN BYRNE'S NOVEL DISCUSSED

By MARGARET KRUMM
CLEVELAND, O., May 24.—With all the legitimate theaters operating on a summer diet, with the symphony orchestra and opera seasons concluded, with even vaudeville theaters giving way to the movies, metropolitan Ohio will dine on a cream puff menu after a season of the raw red meat in most of the arts.

The Repertoire company at the Ohio Theater has started off with a competent cast in an uncooked play, "The Family Upstairs." The acting was pretty fair but the play was not so much.

The policy of the McLaughlin Theater in past years is being followed again in the 1926 summer

JUDGE TELLS HOW TO AVOID DIVORCE

DAYTON, O., May 24.—On the eve of his resignation from the domestic relations court, Judge Roland W. Baggott, drew up a list of rules which he has entitled "How to Avoid Divorce," and has offered them to every married couple.

The rules apply both ways—to both man and wife, the judge declared. Here are a few of them: Don't play with gin.

A wife should spend at least one afternoon a week in the home. If there are children they should have an occasional bath. If a husband is attracted by certain externals, it would be well for the wife to use rouge, lipstick, and short skirts.

If a wife is attracted by rascals coats and derby hats, the husband should deck himself accordingly.

CHARGE MAN WITH DEATH OF WOMAN

POMEROY, O., May 24.—"King Tim" O'Brien, charge with clubbing and burning to death, Mrs. Susan Rhoades, 80, because she threatened to tell police of his alleged liquor business, went on trial for his life here today.

O'Brien's chief accuser was John Hedricks, who is condemned to death for the murder of James McCumber, 65. Hedricks will be brought here from the state penitentiary tonight, with John Bryant, negro and Richard Rhoades who also are under sentence for participation in the killing of McCumber.

Bryant and Rhoades will testify for O'Brien. Today was expected to be consumed in the drawing of the jury.

TRAINMEN HURT

COLUMBUS, O., May 24.—The main line of the Hocking Valley Railroad was still blocked today by the wreckage of several freight cars which were derailed near here Sunday, injuring two trainmen, Otto Harris, and Otto Reed, of Columbus.

MAY

According to mythology, May was the daughter of Atlas and the mother of Mercury by Jupiter. This explains a great deal. Blood will tell. The volatile nature of the month is accounted for, the variability and capricious qualities understood—Mercury was his mother's own son. Yet, withal, it seems eminently safe now to sing the Song of Solomon, which has the place of honor at the head of this dissertation. Spring has come, and May is here in something more than name. There can be no mistake about it, spring is at hand. For lo! here and there upon the streets of the city the straw hat appears, furtively and cautiously now, but by and by bravely and blithely. Furthermore, the dandelions, those ten-dollar gold pieces fresh from the mint of spring are bespangling every grassy sward.

The apple trees are in blossom, a sight worth going far to see. Henry Ward Beecher averred that an apple tree in bloom puts to shame every woman who has attempted to dress since the world began. A strong statement, this, and admits of some qualification and exception. Still, it compliments the apple tree and can not possibly detract from a maiden lovely in plaited crepe skirt and jaquet, silk stockings and shoes to match—nothing can detract from her. An apple tree in bloom is not only lovely to the eye, since the wax-like petals are perfect, but the faint perfume thereof is exquisite, and once known and identified, never to be forgotten. Peach and plum and pear trees have surrendered to the charm of May, and their blooms regale in undisputed sway for a pathetically brief reign. Violets and other vagrant flowers, after braving snow and gloomy days, are happy now in the fellowship of the friendly sun.

The migrants are here in numbers which increase daily. The large family of warblers are constantly arriving, and even though their small bodies can not always be seen because of the heavier foliage, their notes are never over-strong but sweet and low and can be distinguished by every listening ear. Most of the birds begin housekeeping in this month of May, and by the first of June their babies begin to demand attention. House-making and home-keeping even among the birds is exacting and takes heavy toll from the parents in patience, fortitude and downright courage. The natural enemies of a bird's home are numerous, wary and some of them cruel and bloodthirsty in the extreme. Then a wind storm may undo and defeat the work of nest-building carried on through many a busy day of constant plucking and pulling, placing and arranging of straws, pieces of string and twigs. Housekeeping and home-making among all God's creatures is a commingling of joy and pain, singing and sighing, high hopes and bitter loss!

May is the Memorial month, and the thirtieth day is set apart, and rightfully so, as sacred to the heroic dead who fell on battlefield, died in camp, or perished in prison pen for the sake of a mighty cause. God's Acre is never so lovely and its grim tokens so rainbowed with hope as "when spring comes back with rustling shade and apple blossoms fill the air." Nature is never partisan, never petty, and the sun's rays fall with equal splendor over the graves of soldiers of the common good who fought under different banners but gave their all with superb abandon when the great testing time came. The Blue and the Gray are together today, and joint Memorial Days are the accepted order in many a section where once the Mason and Dixon line was a reality.

When comes May with its blossoms, its bird song, its glory of sun, its carping winds and warm gentle rains, how fitting that all wintriness of pride, coldness of heart and frigidity of spirit be melted in the sunlight that floods the earth and makes all nature jubilant with life and love.

THE SPORT OF KINGS

The first of a mighty caravan is driving out of the home garage these fine May days, and the 1926 season of automobile touring—the sport of kings—is under way.

In all ages the privileged classes have had their hobbies. Horse racing, polo and power boats are among the chief diversions of the moneyed people today.

But when all is said and done, the great American sport is touring. From the "tin can tourist" camping along the road, to the limousine parties that pull up before expensive hostleries at eventide, there is fun for everybody and every purse.

No wonder the motor tour is popular. The sweet music made by the resounding slam of the automobile door, the joy of the high road, the delight of stopping wherever and whenever one pleases without regard for vexing timetables—all these and more are part of the lure of this rapidly growing American pastime.

This transformation in summer travel has altered entirely the hotel business. The "one night stand" is now the source of income and profit in place of the old-fashioned stay of a week or more. Municipal camping sites and the ubiquitous farmhouse accommodations for tourists are another new development.

Every man is a king in this country, or as good as one, and touring is his sport. May its popularity increase, for it harms none and benefits all.

May the bride and bridegroom be affinites. Youth is that period when a picnic is enjoyable. One of the pressing needs of the day is a closed season for suckers.

A ceiling put up by a $14-a-day plasterer is what is known as a heavy overhead.

It is a totally lazy boy who cannot find a fairly satisfactory swimming hole these days.

Let other lands have such monopolies as they can get; America has a monopoly of America.

JOHN BAUGHN FILES INTENTION TO SEEK OFFICE OF SHERIFF

Deputy Sheriff John Baughn filed his declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sheriff of Greene County subject to the August primary election with Earl Short, clerk of the board of elections, Friday.

Baughn has served as deputy sheriff for the past three years and was for a time acting sheriff. To date, no other candidates have announced for the office.

He is the second candidate to file but other party champions are expected to make their declarations soon as the time limit for filing expires in less than a month.

The primary election will be held August 10.

MODERN HOSPITAL EQUIPMENT URGED

More modern hospital equipment and better facilities for medical treatment of children at the O. S. and S. O. Home, were recommended to the board of trustees by a special committee from the Medical and Surgical Visiting and Consulting Staff at the Home, Sunday.

Recommendations include those discussed by members of the medical staff at the last meeting at the institution in November. At that time changes in conditions at the Home hospital were suggested and the employment of a resident physician, a specialist in children's diseases, was urged.

Casserole Lamb: Have your butcher cut you a piece of lamb one and one-quarter inches thick from the center of the leg. Sear this on both sides, till brown, in a frying pan, then sprinkle with a little salt and pepper, rub over with melted butter, and bake the meat twenty-five minutes in a covered casserole in a good oven. At the end of this baking period, add to the dish one cupful dried carrots, and one cupful of cubed and uncooked white potatoes. Lay four strips of bacon over all, add two cups of boiling water, and let continue to bake in a hot oven, uncovered, until the potatoes are tender. Serve.

Spinach Salad: (This may be made with any cooked greens.) Pack the left-over greens, while still hot, into small tea cups or after-dinner coffee cups, and set in a cold place to mold. Turn them out onto a bed of lettuce leaves, when firm, and serve with a dab of Mayonnaise dressing, and a garnish of radishes if you happen to have them.

Cocoanut Cream Candy: This will be called for in the Sunday Night Guest Supper Menu. I make this variety of candy in six or seven minutes as follows: I put two cups of granulated sugar into a small high-sided sauce pan with one tablespoon of butter, one-fourth cup of cold water, one-fourth cup of evaporated milk, and one-eighth teaspoon of cream

OLDEST FOOTPRINTS FOUND IN COLORADO

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The oldest footprints on the sand of time in America have been found by Dr. Charles W. Gilmore, Smithsonian Paleontologist, in the Colorado Grand Canyon.

The tracks found by the scientist are believed to have been made more than 25,000,000 years ago by animals on the Yaki trail. The footprints are made in moist sand and since that time more than 1,000 feet of rock-making materials were piled up in successive strata above them.

A study is now being made of the prints in an effort to determine what type of prehistoric monster was responsible for them.

SIDELIGHTS ON Greene County History

AGRICULTURE

History of agriculture as it concerns Greene County is little different from that of most of the other counties of the state.

One hundred years ago the farmer did not have a single one of the labor-saving devices found on every well-managed farm of the county today. With his crude single-shovel plow and hoe, his sickle, scythe and cradle, flail and fanning-mill, home made harness and hand-made wagon, he was but poorly equipped to battle the forests. He looked for the high and dry land since such a thing as the tile ditch was unheard of.

There was no such thing as a stump-puller; dynamite was unknown and the obstreperous stump was left to rot in the field. In short, the meager equipment of farming implements possessed by the early pioneers who first attempted to make a living from the soil would not be considered worthy of the poorest farmers of today.

The early farmer managed in some way to clear the forests with the aid of ax and fire and raised sufficient produce to make a comfortable living for his family. Wants were so few and simple that the two cents he received for a pound of pork and the ten cents his corn brought him looked as important as present prices.

Greene County farmers are able to raise crops yielding the best in the country today. An acre of Greene County land has produced 100 bushels of corn and half that many bushels of wheat; 400 bushels of potatoes and for that matter it might produce as many bushels of onions. In addition it has produced three tons of timothy hay and six tons of alfalfa.

The farm which cost in the early days $1.25 an acre today is worth as many dollars an acre.

Keep Pimples away

WHY do you let those unsightly pimples, blackheads and blotches disfigure your skin and ruin your appearance? You can keep them away if you keep your system full of rich, red blood. And not only that, but the very texture of your skin will be soft and velvet like—and the coloring radiant as a rose.

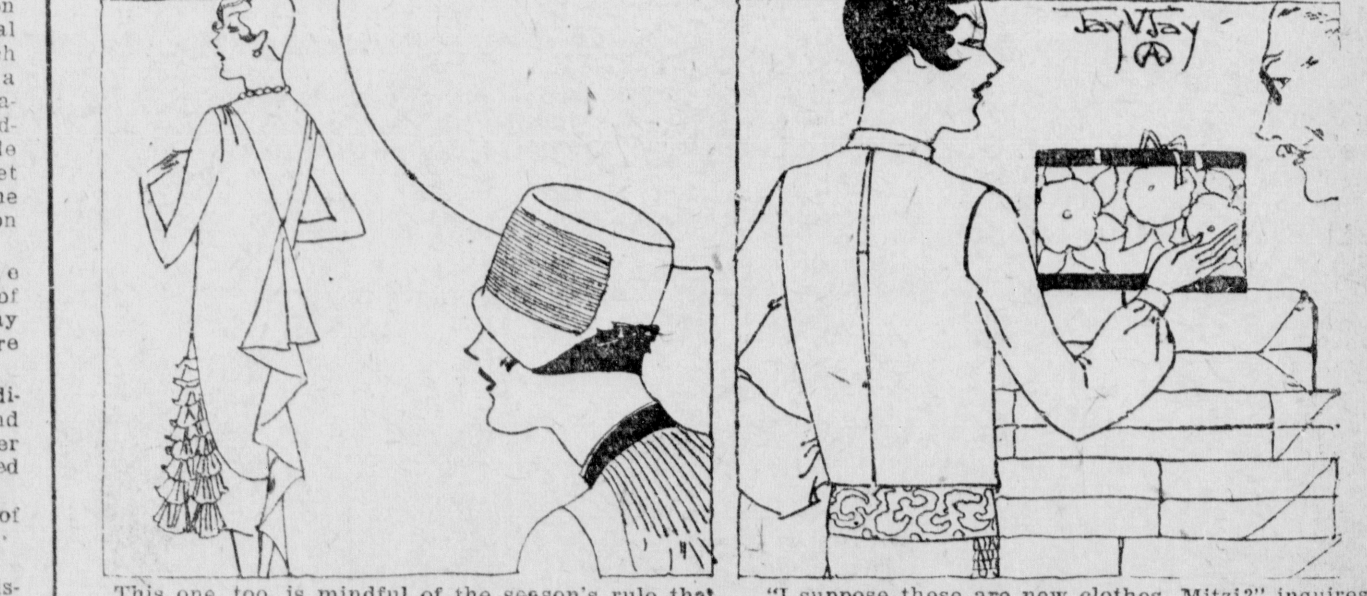

It's all in the blood. And S. S. S. will help Nature keep your blood rich and red and pure.

Yes, you can keep pimples away, simply by taking S. S. S. That's a fact. The kind of red-blood-cells that S. S. S. helps Nature build makes your skin beautiful—clears it up just like it puts firm flesh on you—brings strength to weak, flabby muscles—gives you an appetite like you used to have and generates the energy and vitality of youth throughout your entire system! MODISH MITZI—This Has Never Happened To Dad Before BY J. V. JAY

Mitzi is glad Estelle is so popular. If Estelle didn't have so many engagement parties to attend she could do her own last minute shopping—as it is Mitzi who has all the fun of buying trousseau clothes. (Notice her hat—it is silk and has a tucked panel.)

This one, too, is mindful of the season's rule that bodices may be plain, but skirts must be fancy. The front of this frock is a mass of pleated ruffles. The long jabot down the back is a variation of the bow or bustle back re-introduced in Paris lately.

"I suppose these are new clothes, Mitzi?" inquires Dad with a sort of calm resignation. So calm in fact that Mitzi has almost a twinge of regret for lost opportunity as she answers virtuously: "Oh, yes, but they're not mine. I bought them all for Estelle, poor dear!"

Today's Talk

WHAT A WORLD!

We had a thrill with our breakfast that morning. We read of that matchless feat of Commander Byrd, who flew to the North Pole and back in just 15 1/2 hours from his starting point. It took Peary 25 years and over 400 days from the time he left New York until he finally reached his goal.

We remember when the aeroplane thrilled the world as it was announced that it stayed in the air for an hour or so.

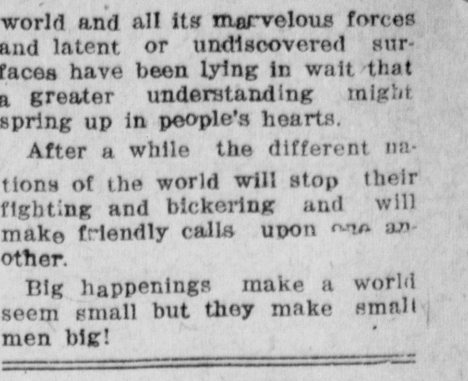

And the other evening they had a talk over the waves and heard the voice of Byrd, this gallant daredevil of the air—a voice that came out of that frozen and bleak North country to the warm, easy chairs of a New York City newspaper office.

What a world! And now the intrepid Amundsen has sailed in a big dirigible over the North Pole on his way to Alaska.

Plans, also are under way to fly from New York to Paris in a single day, and already men have left New York City and gone to sleep in San Francisco—all in a single day.

We are thinking less complexly than at any time in the history of the world. We demand simplicity, directness, brevity, and more perspective.

This all tends to make people more tolerant and less snobbish, more philosophical and serene. We pay attention more than ever to people's motives and understand in a broader way than formerly. And it has all come about largely because we have learned that the

BURLESQUE BATTLE ENTERTAINS FANS AT LOCAL DIAMOND

Athletics Unable to Solve Offerings of McPherson

In a comedy of errors the Reserves won their fourth game of the season by defeating the Troy Athletics 11 to 7 Sunday afternoon at Washington Park.

It was a burlesque ball game the like of which fans have not seen on the home lot for some time. There was all kinds of baseball—good, bad and indifferent. Sixteen runs, twenty-four hits and sixteen errors were contributed. Of these the Reserves made eleven runs, seventeen hits and eleven wabbles in the field.

The local nine scored at least once in every inning but the seventh and most of the runs were due to hard, clean slugging. On the other hand at least five of the Trojan tallies were in the nature of gifts with misplays the contributing factors.

Conley fattened his batting average and enjoyed a perfect day at bat with four hits in four times up. He collected a triple, double, two singles, walked and scored four runs himself. Cyphers also made four safeties, including a double. Every player on the team obtained at least one hit but McPherson.

The Reserves have signed up an original Nick Atrock in Frank "Doc" Chambliss, an old-time local star and recent graduate of a medical college. He is a utility hurler.

Playing his first game, Doc kept the fans rolling in mirth and furnished a world of amusement. He obtained three hits, two of which were of the flukiest variety, was caught napping off first, once, purposely dropped a fly ball while playing the outfield and then got the runner at second. Then in the sixth inning, with the bases loaded and two gone, he did a Casey and fanned.

Drumming up trade he spiked the first baseman going into first then "fixed him up." Chambliss was permitted to pitch the last inning with "Red" Randall behind the plate—the old "log-yard" battery. The Trojans broke their bats trying to hit his benders and he whiffed the first batter and got the next two on easy fly balls.

Trojans got away to a two-run lead in the first. M. Babb tripled, Schaffer scored him with a single and scored all the way from first when Lucas misjudged his boundary and in the relay Conley threw wild. McPherson pitched hitless ball the next four innings but got out of a hole in the fifth by wonderful twisting. Troy filled the bases on Randall's error and two passes with no outs. C. Valentine tripled Burnside at the plate, M. Babb popped to Randall and Schaffer rolled to the pitcher for the third demise.

With two gone in the sixth, S. Valentine singled, went to third on Burnside's safety. Burnside stole second. Both runners scored on Eckert's low pop to first. Eyer's bounce. Their final three runs in the eighth were down-and-out gifts. W. Babb walked and stole second. Arthur was safe on Eckert's error of his difficult fly. S. Valentine singled and all three came home on Ramsey's over-throw of third and Wade's error.

Reserves got one back in the first on Conley's long fly to the bill boards and a single by Cyphers. Fuller hit a Texas Leaguer in the second. He was sent down by McPherson and scored when Chambliss singled over second. In the third Eyer's error and four consecutive singles by Eckert, Conley, Cyphers and Ramsey were good for three runs. F. Kessler was brutally batted out of the box in this inning and Eyer took up the labor.

Locals took an especial liking to his offerings also. Randall greeted him with a single in the fourth. Eckert was hit by a pitched ball. Conley singled, filling the bases. Cyphers then delivered with a double, clearing the bases. The next three batters were easy.

Another run was added in the fifth with one out. McPherson was safe on an error. Wade surprised with a double, his first hit since joining the Reserves, scoring the runner. Chambliss obtained a fluke hit when the second baseman played out of position but Randall forced Wade at third and Eckert lofted to W. Babb. One more came across in the sixth on Conley's double and a single by Cyphers. Ramsey's following single was wasted, as Fuller fled out. Wade took first when he was hit by a pitched ball clogging the sacks but Chambliss ingloriously hit nothing but the atmosphere. Fuller scored the final run in the eighth. He was safe at first on an error by Davis, stole second and headed for third when Davis juggled the ball. Davis threw over the third baseman's head and Fuller made home easily.

Reserves will play either the Broadway Clothers of Columbus, or the Springfield Knights of Columbus nine, a traveling organization, next Sunday at Washington Park. The score.

BOWERSVILLE DROPS CONTEST SUNDAY TO WILMINGTON TEAM

rally fell two short of a tie and the Bowersville Bayliffs dropped a diamond engagement to the Wilmington Night Hawks Sunday afternoon, at Wilmington.

Bowersville outlived the Quakers nine to eight but failed to connect safely when the hits meant runs. With the score seven to three against them, the Bayliffs proceeded to stage a belated rally in the final stanza. Runnels, first man up in the ninth, walked. Bowermeister and Glass singled, filling the bases, and Wells drove deep to right scoring Runnels and Bowermeister, Wells and Glass advancing on the throw home.

With the tying runs on second and third and no outs, E. Shadley struck out, Glass was thrown out at the plate trying to score on a short passed ball and D. Murrell was also a strike out victim.

Clarence Wells had an off day in the box and pitched indifferent ball. He was touched for two runs in the third, one in the fourth, three in the fifth and another in the seventh. Glass, Wells and Bowermeister each made a pair of safeties for the Bayliffs while Batey was the only Wilmington player to make two hits.

The Bayliff-Night Hawk series this season now stands one to one. The third and deciding game will be played at Wilmington June 27.

Doctor and Woman Chiropractor Indicted in "Baby Farm" Probe

Three indictments have been returned at Peoria, Ill., against Dr. Harry H. Whitten and Bessie Atherton, the latter a chiropractor, in connection with the investigations by Peoria and Tazewell county authorities into the deaths of two infants "adopted" by Mrs. Alice Marie Cramer. That these two doctors were connected with the "baby farm" from which Mrs. Cramer obtained her "adopted" infants was revealed when Mrs. Cramer was questioned at the Pekin jail, where she is held. Dr. Whitten and Bessie Atherton deny any wrong doing in connection with the farm. The photo shows Dr. Atherton and the home in which some of the infants were found dead.

Mitzi's Sea-Going Coat

When Mitzi Hajos, the sprightly comedienne from Vienna and way stations, left for Europe the other day, she wore a coat on which was embroidered a sister ship of her own liner, the Majestic.

In the News of the World

General Haller gave fierce battle to successful Polish rebels under Marshal Josef Pilsudski. A three-year-old indictment against Ralph A. Day, former prohibition director, charging possession of liquor, was revealed in New York. While his native Poland is torn by civil war, Ignace Paderewski is ill in New York. At seventy-four, Catarina Marco gave a successful vocal recital in New York.

This Will Be White House for Summer

Bathing Suits and Robes as Beaches Will See Them

Bathing suits, robes and hats are allowed plenty of latitude in styles this season. Milady may exercise her ingenuity on hers as much as her heart desires. Hats of turkish toweling are popular and you will notice that stockings are much in evidence. Is the pendulum about to swing to ultra modesty once more, is the query?

Where Pilsudski Rules in Polish Revolt

Warsaw, war trampled city of Poland, is now in the hands of Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, leader of what seems to have been a successful revolt. The photo shows the Zjazd street in Warsaw. It is an approach to Alexander bridge, one of the three over the river Vistula.

Florida Takes Off Coat and Goes to Work

With the "land rush" and boom a thing of the past the state of Florida has taken off its vacation clothes and gone to work, as the main photo shows. One of the enduring improvements planned is a new rapid transit railroad that will eventually connect Tampa, St. Petersburg and other west coast cities. Photo at right shows Mayor C. M. Blanc of St. Petersburg, with silver pick, and Clavin A. Owens, president Florida Rapid Transit, breaking ground for the road at Pinellas Park, near St. Petersburg. At left Walter Fuller, boy millionaire businessman of St. Petersburg, delivering the dedication address.

Suicide Writes End of Tragic Family History

The final chapter in the tragic history of the Atz family of Fairmont, Minn., has been written in the suicide of Mrs. Esther Atz. Her husband was killed in an explosion, her daughter Florence, 2, and son Raymond, 5, died within eight months of each other of unknown causes. She was indicted and later freed on the charge of murdering Florence. Two hours after a jury indicted her for the murder of her son, Mrs. Atz drank poison and died.

Fire Destroys Hangar, Planes at Kansas City Airport

On the day that thousands of residents of Kansas City and vicinity turned out to witness the inauguration of the air mail service to the city from Chicago and Dallas fire destroyed the army hangar and two government planes at the aviation field and damaged other equipment. The main photo shows a general view of Richards Field, the Kansas City air port. At the lower right hand corner can be seen the ruined hangar. Other photo shows "Uncle Ike" Morrill, veteran postmaster of Notch, Mo., and character in Harold Bell Wright's "Shepherd of the Hills," delivering a speech at the ceremonies.

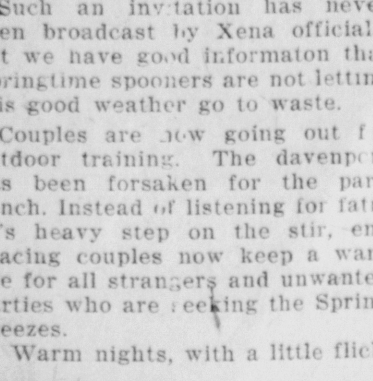

OUT DOOR NECKER'S GLORY IN PRETTY SPRING NIGHTS WHILE COPS TURN BACKS

Every once in a while, a police officer or some city official gets a lot of publicity for himself and his own by telling the world that he will welcome "petters" to his fair city and all the by-ways and shaded nooks are at their disposal. Such an invitation has never been broadcast by Xenia officials, but we have good information that Springtime spooners are not letting his good weather go to waste.

Couples are now going out for outdoor training. The davenport has been forsaken for the par bench. Instead of listening for father's heavy step on the stair, embracing couples now keep a wary eye for all strangers and unwanted parties who are seeking the Spring breezes.

Warm nights, with a little flicker of moonlight coming through the young leaves, stir all the romance that has been lying dormant for months. Of course, it has not been entirely latent for shiekings is an all-weather sport. But Spring brings new fervor to its already enthusiastic devotees.

These balmy evenings now see scores of couples strolling arm in arm through the more secluded parts of town, tiding in low tones about things that are distinctly none of our business. From front porches there comes the squeak of porch swings.

MEDICAL SURVEY IS STARTED AT HOME

Six hundred wards of the O. S. and S. O. Home will be subject to a medical survey, started Monday under direction of Colonel Robbins, chief of the division of epidemiology of the State Board of Health.

Four doctors and several nurses of the department will assist, with the aid of Dr. A. C. Messenger, Xenia, chief resident physician at the Home. The survey will consume a week or ten days.

Treatment of defects detected during the examination will be started as soon as the survey is completed. This is the first time a survey of this nature has been conducted at the institution. It is being made at the request of the state department through Dr. Messenger and Col. Robbins.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT XXXII—"A MESSAGE THROUGH THE AIR"

As I looked at Bill Ewing I remembered what I had heard about him—that he had been disappointed in love, and had come off to this beautiful island because he did not want to see any women.

I wondered if he resented Nathalie's and my coming there. He had been very nice to us, of course, but then, he would do that just out of politeness.

He took me out in a glass-bottomed boat that morning—just a regular row boat, it was, with a piece of heavy glass set into the bottom, in the middle, so that we could look straight down into the ocean. All sorts of beautiful fish swam beneath the boat, through long, waving strands of sea weed. Occasionally a little shark would pass us. It was fascinating; we stayed out for hours.

Bill Ewing told me lots of things about the Bahamas, things he had found out during the year that he had lived there. He told me about the religious meetings they had, like our revival meetings, and said he'd take me to one. I really began to think that he liked me.

We got back to the island to find Nathalie pacing the terrace, waiting for us. She hurried over to me.

"You have a wireless message," she told me. "I'd have come after you if I'd had any idea where you were—I'm afraid it's important."

It was from my mother. The first thing I thought of was the prediction the little colored maid had made the night before: "He's writing to you now," she had said, when talking about "a man far, far away." "But it isn't a letter, it's a message that comes quick through the air, and it doesn't come straight to you."

And here it was, a wireless from Virginia, relaying a telegram from Jim.

"Ordered to China," it said. "Can you come?"

China—thousands of miles away. I hadn't the slightest desire to go to China. I was perfectly happy right where I was. And I didn't see why Jim should want me there, anyway. He hadn't seemed to care particularly for my society when we were together in New York. He had Cicely Eaton, anyway. No doubt she would go to China, too.

"It's nothing important," I said carelessly.

When one of the servants went to Nassau that afternoon he took it with him. I had said in my message, "Can't possibly come." I had no qualms of conscience; I told myself that Jim had sent for me just because he thought he ought to, and would be relieved when I refused to join him.

Bill Ewing looked at me quizzically.

"Just a little matter of a husband," I told him, laughing. "He thinks he ought to ask me to join him, and I think I ought not to do it."

His expression changed. I regretted my flippancy.

"Are you sure that he doesn't really want you to come?" he asked.

"Oh, yes; he likes me best right where I am, thousands of miles away from him," I answered.

I couldn't help wondering how much more of Cissy's prophecy would come true. A man would offer me love, and I would say "no" and then say "yes." Was Bill Ewing that man?

I went into Nathalie's room late that night, because I couldn't sleep. She was sitting up in bed, looking at a typewritten notation.

She tossed it aside almost guiltily as I came in, then handed it to me, defiantly.

"This is a memorandum of what that fortune teller told me," she said. "I couldn't resist getting it out and looking it over again."

"Even though you don't believe what she told you?"

"I can't help believing," she answered, reluctantly. "She told me so many things that have come true that I can't help feeling that the other things will happen, too. And I'm afraid, when I think of them."

I had come to talk with her because I was inclined to feel rather blue myself. We had gone sailing that evening, all of us, through magic moonlight seas. A perfect setting for romance—and Bill Ewing had taken about as much interest in me as if I'd been part of the boat—not so much, in fact, because the boat really did interest him.

But I remained to try to cheer Nathalie. She was so much in love with her husband, and so much afraid that he would become attached to somebody else, as he had before. I couldn't exactly blame her knowing Dick Jordan as I did, but I tried my best to make her believe that she had nothing to fear.

I went back to bed at last, having succeeded fairly well with her, but more convinced than ever that there was a chance of Cissy's prophecies coming true. I hoped that the would—and that Bill Ewing was the man she had meant in them.

Tomorrow—Sailing in Tropic Seas.

In the News of the Day

Festivities will start at 3 o'clock, when members who play golf are invited to participate in a tournament. Suitable prizes will be given participants who make good scores.

Wilby G. Hyde, governor of Ohio, Kamanis and Guy O'Donnell, lieutenant governor, will be guests of honor and speakers at the banquet at the country club, which is scheduled to start at 6:30, daylight saving time.

London and Springfield clubs report their attendance will be good. Springfield club is planning to bring its orchestra and glee club as an additional feature of the evening's entertainment. There will be music for dancing and a Charleston contest is planned.

The Urbana Country Club is about four miles east of Urbana, on the Maysville Road.

GEORGE Y. WINTER CALLED BY DEATH

George Y. Winter, 60, died at his home on N. King St., Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Death was due to a complication of diseases from which he had been suffering ten days.

Mr. Winter was born in Cedarville and spent all of his life in Greene County. He moved to Xenia from Cedarville eleven years ago and had since been employed at the H. E. Schmidt and Co. grocery, S. Detroit St.

Surviving is his widow, who was before marriage, Miss Nelle Hliff, of Cedarville, and two children, Mrs. Robert Adams, Springfield, and Alfred Winter, at home. He also leaves his mother, Mrs. Caroline Winter, of this city.

Mr. Winter was a member of the First U. P. Church of this city. Funeral services will be held at the residence Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of the Rev. J. P. Lytle, pastor of the First U. P. Church. Burial will be made in Massies Creek Cemetery, Cedarville.

MISS EMILY WATSON DIES HERE SUNDAY

Miss Emily Watson, 74, passed away at her residence, 696 S. Detroit St., Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock. Miss Watson's death was the result of a complication of diseases.

She was born in the Union Neighborhood, south of Xenia, March 2, 1852, the daughter of George and Martha Watson. She is survived by one brother, R. L. Watson, Burlington Pike; one nephew, four nieces, ten great nieces and one great-great nephew. Five brothers preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock, fast time, at the residence 696 S. Detroit St., with interment in Woodland Cemetery. Friends are asked to omit flowers.

Sebastian S. Kresge, five and ten cent store magnate, gave $23,000,000 to charity. Winifred Sackville Stoner, educator, said a girl should marry at sixteen as she began her stage career at forty-two. Senator Charles L. McNary, of Oregon, announces he will insist on farm relief measures before Congress adjourns. Lieutenant-Commander R. E. Byrd is returning to the United States, abandoning polar exploration for the year.

The Theatre

"Plays or players? Stars or stories? Which are more important in providing entertainment for the millions who find their chief amusement in motion pictures?" Herbert Knight Cruikshank, editor of "Cinema Art" asks.

"A while back one William Shakespeare remarked, 'the play's the thing.' He was right then. And he's right now. The towering structure of the star system, 'built by architects of both stage and screen is tottering," Cruikshank declares.

"Its foundations were laid in sand. Sands—perhaps as dazzlingly golden as Swanson's tresses—as burning as the cinema love of Valentino, as compellingly alluring as Pola Negri's eyes. But sands are shifting. So is public opinion and the popularity of individuals. No single player is of sufficient calibre to indefinitely carry the entire burden of productions," he declares.

"Valentino" can give us "The Shiek" and "The Four Horsemen." Negri can contribute "Passion." But both are capable of incredible mediocrity in lesser vehicles," he continues. "Buoyed by strong stories, moderately competent actors may attain the heights. But not even a Barrymore can sustain a poor play. Star prestige is built by powerful publicity. The zenith of popularity is attained. It might be held. But always, it seems, the player is ruined by a succession of bread and butter stories. The fault is not with the actor. But it is the actor who suffers and is cast heartlessly aside by the box office producers. Slowly the amusement monarchs are realizing. They are using more care in the selection of cinema material. In doing so they will stabilize their stars. They will make fixed satellites of meteors. It takes a long time to come to consciousness. But always the truth eventually prevails. In the end Shakespeare's axiom will be recognized. Most decidedly, 'the play's the thing.'"

Hear ye! All forecasters that the world is going to the "demolition bow-wows." A recent contest held to obtain the public's suggestions on desirable cinema material resulted in an overwhelming choice of Scriptural stories. The Bible retains its popularity.

The International Film Arts Guild is engaged in an effort to preserve the more memorable photographs and giving them anew to the public. The lifetime of the films which have real reasons for living will be thus extended.

BOBBIE GIBNEY IS SUMMONED BY DEATH

Joseph Robert Gibney, four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gibney, N. Galloway St., died Sunday night at 10:20 o'clock. The child had been ill ten days with tubercular meningitis. His sudden death was a shock to his family and everyone who knew the handsome youngster.

Every effort to save his life was made by local physicians and out-of-town specialists. The disease which resulted in his death was thought to be the result of a series of child ailments from which he had suffered recently.

Besides his parents, "Bobbie" leaves one brother, John Gibney, and his maternal grandfather, Mr. Gibney is proprietor of the Hutchison and Gibney Co., N. Detroit St. department store.

Funeral services will be held at the parents' home Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 with interment in Woodland Cemetery.
